SERBIA IS ATTACKED BY TEUTONS ON NORTH BULGARIANS ON EAS

Russian, British and French Troops Going to Little Country's Aid.

GREECE "NEUTRAL" YET

Italy Has Her Hands Too Full Already to Take Part in the Balkan Scrap.

Allies Resuming "Offensive" in West and East.

London, October 12. — Serbia is being attacked from the north and the east. The Austro-Germans, after their capture of Belgrade and Semendria, are advancing southward, while the Bulgarians have sent forces to endeavor to interrupt communications north and south of Nish, the war-time capital of Serbia, and attack the Serbs on the flank, if they are driven back by the German field marshal, Von Mackensen.

The situation is admitted to be a very serious one, not only for Serbia but for the whole Allied cause. It is asserted that the Serbians are inflicting very heavy losses both on the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, but with their army of about a quarter of a million men they are believed to have little chance of making any prolonged resistance against 300,000 or 400,000 Austro-Germans and probably 200,000 Bulgarians. They are arranging for the transfer of the capital to Monastir, in the extreme southwestern corner of the kingdom.

Greece Remains "Neutral."

Greece apparently has decided to ignore the treaty under which she is supposed to go to the assistance of her Serbian ally in case of an attack, Premier Zaimis having said when officially notified of the Bulgarian attack that Greece "remains in a position of armed neutrality."

The followers of the quadruple entente, however, have decided to take energetic action. As soon as the news of the Bulgarian attack on Serbia was received in London, the Bulgarian minister was handed his passports, and M. Viviani, the French prime minister, in the chamber of deputies today, declared that France, Great Britain and Russia had decided to take joint action and that tomorrow "Russian troops will be fighting by the side of ours."

An Anglo-French force is known to be landing in Saloniki, but there is considerable speculation as to where Russia will enter the Balkan conflict. It is reported that Grand Duke Nicholas is to command the Russian Balkan army, which it is believed in military circles here would make the Bulgarian people less willing to fight against Russia, there being a deep veneration among the Bulgarian peasants for the emperor of Russia and his family.

Italy Not to Co-Operate.

It is understood that Italy has decided not to co-operate with the Allies in the Balkans, the Italian government being of the opinion that troops cannot be spared for any campaign other than that in Trentino and Triest.

Now that Austria and Germany have entered on their Balkan enterprise, which is interpreted as the first step toward an endeavor to secure a German empire in the near east, there can be no drawing back, but the Allies hope that with a vigorous offensive both on the east and west they will be able at least to prevent the sending of any large reinforcements to Field Marshal Von Mackensen.

The French in both the Champagne and Artois regions of France continue their offensive, but not on the scale of the recent attacks. The British after their success in repelling the big German attack are preparing for another move, but at what point only the commanding generals know. Now that they have started, it is believed here that the British and French on the western line will give the Germans no rest.

Russians Striking Back.

It is much the same on the Eastern front. The Austro-Germans having brought their offensive to an end, except in the region of Dvinsk, the Russians have recuperated wonderfully and are striking back in their familiar way. The Germans claim another success west of Dvinsk, but they are still fighting to the west of Illoukst. They also announce that Russian counter attacks have been repulsed south of the Pripet river in Volhynia and in Galicia.

The Russians seemingly have entirely regained the initiative, especially in Galicia. Here it is reported from Petrograd that the Russians have won a victory on the river Stripa. The terrain on which this battle was fought is the extreme left of the Russian line. The Russian offensive on this front started several weeks ago,

TURKS WITH VIGOR RENEW MASSACRES

Majority of Armenians in Asiatic Turkey Killed

SO SAYS MORGENTHAU

Atrocities Renewed Since Bulgaria Joined Turkey in War—No Reply to American Note—Further Evidence Received.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Armenian massacres in Asiatic Turkey have been renewed with vigor since Bulgaria's entrance into the war as Turkey's ally. This information reached the State Department today from Ambassador Morgenthau, who stated that the majority of the Armenians, in Asiatic Turkey had been killed.

Although this government some time ago warned Turkey that further atrocities against the Armenians would alienate the sympathies of the American people, no answer has been received.

Earlier representations were met with the promise that those Armenians who wished to leave the country would be permitted to do so unharmed and that Protestant Armenians would be spared. Information recently reaching this country, however, indicates that these conditions have not been strictly adhered to. From one quarter it was asserted that "they were rescinded the next day."

Although $100,000 from private subscription has been placed at Ambassador Morgenthau's disposal for distribution among the Armenian refugees, no arrangements have been made for bringing Armenians to this country, as was originally planned. Those Armenians who were spared are gathered in the country between the Tigres and Euphrates rivers.

EVIDENCE OF ATROCITIES

Letter From American Professor in a College in Turkey.

New York, Oct. 12.—Further evidence of the atrocities inflicted by the Turks upon the Armenians was given out here tonight by the American Committee on Armenian Atrocities, in the form of a letter received from an American professor in one of the American colleges in Turkey.

"The writer says that during the last week in April the professor of Armenian at his college was arrested and imprisoned with 25 other prominent Armenians. Later he was taken to Sivas, where he died. On June 26 many of the prominent men of the city were taken to the soldiers' barracks until the total numbered 1,215.

"At a place three hours' distance from the city all of these men were brutally slain by the gendarmes and by murderers released from prison for the express purpose of preying on Armenians."

12,000 Deported.

The writer also tells of the wholesale deportation during July of 12,000 persons of that "section of the city nearest to our institutions."

"A government officer," the writer continues, "declared that the destination of the exiles was a city five or six hundred miles distant in the desert regions of Mesopotamia. These same officials declared it was practically impossible for any of the people to ever reach this place.

"The town of Samsoun was similarly emptied of its Armenian population, also all other towns and villages in the vicinity of Marsovan.

"The last of August along the railway from Angora to Constantinople I saw 50,000 Armenians without adequate supply of food and no means of shelter.

30,000 Exiles at One Place.

"At Merkedjie alone the station master told us there were 30,000 exiles. Many were weak from hunger, others almost dead."

The writer says that the American consul was told that the Turkish government intended to exterminate the Armenians. "He further said," the professor continues, "that when the Armenians were disposed, the Greeks would be similarly treated and after that the foreigners. A like statement was made by Enver Pasha, the minister of war, to our ambassador, Mr. Morgenthau.

"The motive for these persecutions, according to government officials, was the fear that the Armenians would strike them (the Turks) in the back while they were fighting their foreign enemies. Their motive was mixed. There was in it a large element of religious fanaticism, a greed for loot and a bestial lust."

WEATHER PREDICTIONS

Cloudy Wednesday and Thursday; Probably Fair Thereafter.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Weather predictions for the week beginning tomorrow, issued by the weather bureau today, say:

Middle Atlantic States: Partly and moderately warm weather Wednesday will be followed by unsettled conditions Thursday and possible by local rains. After Thursday general fair weather may be expected with moderate temperatures.

South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Partley cloudy weather with occasional showers is probable Wednesday and Thursday and generally fair weather thereafter. Temperatures will be near and slightly above the seasonal average.

ANSWERS ATTACKS UPON INCOME TAX

Government Files Brief in Supreme Court Cases.

SHIFT BURDEN UPWARD

Heavier Taxation on Big Incomes as Relief from Disproportionate Share of Burden Borne by Poor is Defended.

Washington, Oct. 12.—"Heavier taxation on big incomes as a relief from the disproportionate share" of governmental support borne by the poor under indirect taxation was defended today by the government in a brief filed with the Supreme Court of the United States in the pending income cases.

The brief represents months of study by the government's legal talent of all the various attacks on the income tax, the success of which would reduce the government's income $82,000,000 a year.

"The ordinary system of indirect taxation upon consumption places upon the poor person a disproportionate share of the burden of government support," says the brief in reply to a charge of discrimination in the additional or sur-tax on incomes of over $20,000.

"Income taxation tends to shift the burden upward. It is undeniable that the greater the income the greater the ease with which the payment of taxes is met. * * * At least, Congress has in its discretion determined that the heavier burdens can be carried more easily by the larger income, and it is not for the courts to say that such classification is outrageous."

As to the alleged discriminations, the government contends Congress has the recognized power to make classifications so long as they are not unnatural and are based on real distinction. Exemption of persons from taxation on the first $3,000 income and taxation of corporations on all income is justified on the ground that corporations have no personal or family expense.

Complaints of discrimination against holding companies by requiring corporations and not individuals to pay a tax on corporate dividends are met with the statement that there is a greater difference between individuals and holding companies than between individuals and active corporations and that the court has upheld a distinction in the latter instance in the corporation tax cases.

Collection of the additional tax from individuals and not form corporations is defended as avoiding double taxation. The argument that there is an unlawful discrimination in the tax upon husband and wife living together in that they are entitled only to one exemption of $4,000, is answered with the point that Congress was justified in making a distinction between the separate maintenance of two persons on one hand and their combined maintenance at lesser cost on the other.

The corporation tax decisions are referred to in the brief as authority for any interference of the tax with the formation of holding companies and objections to requiring corporations to collect at the source is met with the contention that there is a very real difference between a corporation with an interest paying indebtedness and one not so organized.

CHARLESTON ELECTION WITHOUT DISTURBANCE

Hyde Said to be Leading Mayor Grace by 100 Votes.

While the Voters Balloted, the State Militia Was in Readiness in the Armories for Action, if Disorder Occurred.

Charleston, S. C., October 12. — Voters of Charleston today balloted in a Democratic municipal primary, while State troops were held under arms in their armories to quell any possible disturbances that might arise as the result of a heated campaign. No disturbances occurred, and none was expected, but the troops were still held in readiness late tonight.

The principal contest was between Mayor John P. Grace and Tristram T. Hyde for the nomination for mayor. Hyde was said to be leading by 100 votes late tonight with two-thirds of the ballots counted.

Governor Manning ordered the troops here under arms on representations of Sheriff J. E. Martin, who said he feared there might be disorder, which he would be unable to control.

State troops remained in their armories here tonight where they had been held by order of Governor Manning to prevent possible disorder in today's Democratic municipal primary election. No disorder was reported, however, either today or tonight. It was not known here when the troops would be released. Virtually complete unofficial returns indicated that the ticket headed by Hyde, candidate for mayor, had defeated the ticket headed by Mayor John P. Grace, who is seeking re-nomination. The race, however, is said to be close.

Columiba, S. C., Oct. 12.—No statement could be obtained from Governor Manning tonight as to how long

TO ALMOST DOUBLE STRENGTH OF NAVY IN NEXT FIVE YEARS

Daniels Will Recommend the Five-Year Building Programme to Congress.

AGREES WITH WILSON

Fifteen to Twenty Dreadnaughts; About 100 Submarines; Other Craft.

Washington, October 12. — Fifteen to twenty fighting ships of the dreadnaught and battle cruiser type, with a proportionate number of sea-going submarines, coast submarines, scout cruisers, destroyers and auxiliaries—enough to make a new fleet—is contemplated by Secretary Daniels for recommendation as a five-year building programme for the United States Navy.

President Wilson and Secretary Daniels have discussed informally the needs of the navy and are agreed that in order to be adequately prepared for defense, the present strength of the fleet must be almost doubled in the next five years, with the addition of many of the latest type of fast and powerful fighting craft.

Details as to the numbers have not yet been finally worked out, but the idea of fixing a ratio for a continuing programme over a period of five years is the basic principle upon which the general board of the navy and Secretary Daniels are planning their recommendations. Another conference between the President and the Secretary will be held Friday, at which the total number probably will be fixed.

Nearly 100 More Submarines.

The five-year naval programme when completed, would add, in addition to dreadnaughts and battle cruisers, nearly a hundred submar ines, about seventy destroyers and several scout cruisers and a proportionate number of fuel and hospital ships.

An important part of the programme, too, will be a proposal for a large increase in personnel. Appropriation for at least 8,000 additional men will be asked for the first year to make up present deficiencies, and an adequate number will be sought to man the new ships built in the five-year period.

The total cost of the proposed programme for the first year, according to present plans, is estimated at nearly $248,000,000, or about $100,000,000 increase over last year. Just what construction should be provided for the first year has not been determined.

As to the approximate number of ships the fleet should have at the end of five years, however, officers of the general board and Secretary Daniels are understood to be in thorough accord.

Big End First Year.

It is considered probable that the construction programme for the first year

ALLEGIANCE MUST BE PURELY TO AMERICA

Foreign-Born Population Must be Americanized

Roosevelt Says "No Other Kind Can Fight Battles of America, Either in War or in Peace"—Must Learn Language.

New York, Oct. 12—"The foreign-born population of this country must be an Americanized population—no other can fight the battles of America either in war or in peace." Colonel Roosevelt so asserted in a speech on "Americanism" tonight at the annual banquet of the Knights of Columbus in celebration of Columbus Day. Colonel Roosevelt said at the outset that it was the duty of immigrants to learn English and it was the duty of America to provide them means to learn English.

"If an immigrant is not fit to become a citizen, he should not be allowed to come here," said Colonel Roosevelt. "If he is fit he should be given all the rights to earn his livelihood and to better himself that any man can have."

Colonel Roosevelt then suggested

BRITISH SUBMARINES EFFECTIVE IN BALTIC

Copenhagen, (via London, Oct. 12.—The Politken says British submarines in the Baltic sea are causing the German mercantile fleet great losses.

"Five steamers are known to have been sunk," says the newspaper. "How many British submarines have got through the narrow sound is not known, but it is evident that Germany was too late in laying the Baltic mine fields."

Traffic across the Baltic, the Politken adds, in a state of disorganization.

SAY WORLD PEACE IS YET A FANTASY

Will be Until Militaristic Order of Things is Changed.

SAY JAP AND CHINESE

Chinese Editor Addresses International Peace Congress, Which Receives Message from Count Okuma. Unpreparedness Fatal.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Count Okuma, Japanese premier, and Dr. Ng Poon Chew, a Chinese editor of San Francisco, told delegates to the International Peace Congress today that world peace was yet a fantasy and will be until the militaristic order of things is changed. In a message to the congress, Count Okuma said there was no hope for peace "as long as there exist nations or individuals who believe or exalt themselves as absolutely superior to others and to assert that superiority do not hesitate to appeal to material forces."

On the floor of the congress tonight Dr. Ng Poon Chew added to Count Okumu's statement:

"There will be wars and more wars just so long as there are two codes of laws and two standards of morality, one governing nations, the other individuals."

War, the doctor said, was going to keep right on in one place or another. Even China was preparing. He blamed western militarism, which, he said, had not only parceled China, but had destroyed her ideals of peace, and he called Japan the disturber of the peace of the Orient.

"If the United States were as unprepared it would fare no better than China at the hands of the world powers," he said. "China has learned the bitter lesson and now is proceeding to abandon its concept that justice is the foundation of the state and to take up the practice of brute force.

"Japan is the disturber of the peace in the Orient. She is essentially a military nation and she has in herself the perfect compilation of the militarism of Germany and the navyism of England. Her ambition is boundless.

"With such neighbors, what must China do but prepare for defense? Before the European war broke out we imported a large number of men, the followers of the Prince of Peace, from Europe, the seat of Christendom, over to 'Heathen China,' if you are pleased to call us so, to instruct us to turn our plough shares into swords and our spears into pruning forks."

Selfishness, jingoism, yellow journalism and politicians are chiefly responsible for misunderstandings that have existed between the United States and the Japanese, said Mr. Kiyo Sue Inui, a lecturer of the Japanese Society of America.

Gettysburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—The heroic statue in bronz erected at the Bloody Angle to the memory of Major General Alexander S. Webb was dedicated today by survivors of the regiments he commanded and the New York state monuments commission with Governor Charles S. Whitman and his official party as special guests.

QUESTION OF JAPAN'S COURSE IS RE-OPENED

Will Japanese Troops be Despatched to the Balkans?

Such Course is Favored by British Opinion, in Some Quarters at Least—French Statesmen in Tokio.

Tokio, Oct. 12.—Bulgaria's participation in the war and advices from London that British opinion, in some quarters at least, favors the despatch of Japanese troops to the Balkans, have suddenly re-opened the question in Tokio of what Japan's future course will be.

There is a strong impression that the return from Paris today of Baron Kikujiro Ishai, the recently appointed minister of foreign affairs, and previously ambassador to France, is likely to be followed by a full re-consideration of the international situation with special reference to Japan's policy for the preservation of her own permanent interests.

Another factor in arousing discussion on this subject is the arrival of Hagues LeKoux, editor of Paris Matin, who although without official mission, comes, it is understood, with introductions from and the approbation of M. Del Casse, the French foreign minister to discuss military questions with prominent Japanese, with a view to determining whether the latest developments justify a change in Japan's decision not to send an army to aid her allies and the likelihood of dispatching troops to the Balkan theatre.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Recommendations that every state be urged to enact laws prohibiting the drinking of liquor on railroad trains were made in a report of the committee of railway service and accommodations submitted at the 27th annual convention of the national association of railway commissioners which began here today Thirty states were represented.

ALEXANDER, PHILLIES' LAST HOPE, READY AND ANXIOUS FOR THE BOX

VIVIANI OUTLINES BALKAN SITUATION

Premier of France Explains His Government's Action.

BULGARIA OBSTINATE

In Chamber of Deputies He Reviews Negotiations With the Balkan States Since the Beginning of the War in Europe.

Paris, Oct. 12.—In response to resolutions adopted by the finance committee and the socialist group, urging the necessity of a complete and immediate explanation on the part of the government, Premier Viviani, in the chamber of deputies today, outlined the situation with respect to the Balkan states.

The Balkanic question, said the Premier, "was raised at the outset of the war, even before it came to the attention of the world. The Bucharest treaty had left in Bulgaria profound heart burnings. Neither king nor people were resigned to the loss of the fruits of their efforts and sacrifices and to the consequences of the unjustifiable war they had waged upon their former allies. From the first day, the allied governments took into account the dangers of such a situation and sought a means to remedy it.

"We have attempted to re-establish the union of the Balkan peoples, and, in accord with them, seek the realization of their principal national aspirations. The equilibrium thus obtained by mutual sacrifices really made by each would have been the best guarantee of future peace. Despite constant efforts, we have been unable to obtain the sincere collaboration of the Bulgarian government.

Bulgaria's Claims Excessive.

"Bulgaria made claims upon her four frontiers at the expense of her four neighbors. We had hoped that Rumania, Greece and Serbia would consent to the sacrifices, in exchange for which they would receive large compensation.

"As to Turkey, which had thrown herself into the arms of Germany, there was no need for further consideration.

"Our efforts with Rumania were partly successful. Rumania was not unfavorable to the re-establishment of the Balkan alliance. Rumania knew that only victory on the part of the quadruple entente could assure her independence and satisfy her national aspirations.

"In their considerate desire to give the Bulgarian people satisfaction in their aspirations, the quadruple entente did not hesitate to ask valiant Serbia to make heavy concessions. The Serbian people made this extraordinary effort and resigned themselves, hoping for compensations that the victory of the quadruple powers would be able to give Serbia elsewhere.

Greece's Policy Waiting.

"The equivocal attitude of the Bulgarian government led the Greek government to maintain a waiting policy. Our divers proposals received tardy response from the Bulgarian government, which asked for additional details and at the same time carried on parallel negotiations with our enemies. Finally, at the moment when the quadruple entente informed Bulgaria of the important concessions Serbia was ready to make King Ferdinand assigned an accord with Turkey and engaged himself definitely with Germany.

"To our friendly question as to his intention, the response was Bulgarian mobilization, in connection with which the concentration of Austro-German troops on the Danube indicated united action against Serbia.

"In the presence of this attitude, we immediately declared null and void the advantages and guarantees we had announced we were ready to offer Bulgaria and we have resumed with the other Balkan states our liberty of action toward them. On its side, heroic Serbia silently prepared to meet upon two fronts the concerted attacks of Berlin, Vienna and Sofia.

"From a moral standpoint and from the standpoint of military consequences, we could not accept the isolation of Serbia and the rupture of our communications with our ally and friend.

"Our action must be energetic in order to meet the efforts of our enemies, who are dominated on the western front, checked on the eastern front and who now try to obtain on a new front, with the aid of Bulgaria, a success thus far impossible to realize either in France or Russia.

"In order to succor the Serbians, we must go through Saloniki, and from the outset of the Bulgarian mobilization we have conducted negotiations toward that end with the president of the council at Athens. These negotiations are most natural in view of the definite treaty concluded between Serbia and Greece after the second Balkan war in the event of Bulgarian aggression.

Premier Indulges Sarcasm.

"They say," continued M. Viviani sarcastically, "that we are violating the neutrality of Greece, and they even dare to compare our action to that of Germany in violating the neutrality of Belgium, perjuring her signature and plunging that noble country into fire and bloodshed. The conditions under which we went to Saloniki, the conditions under which we debarked; the welcome we received suffice to demonstrate the stupidity of these accusations.

"This energetic action, Great Brit-

Only One Winning Game Stands Between Red Sox and World Championship.

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Deep in Gloom Last Night, Philadelphia Rooters Leave for Pennsylvania City.

Many Expert Fans Do Not Expect Last Game Today

Boston, October 12. — Only one winning game stands tonight between the Boston Americans and the baseball championship of the world. For the third successive time, they defeated the Philadelphia Nationals today by the same score that has marked all of the Red Sox victories—2 to 1.

Tomorrow the scene of battle shifts back to Philadelphia, where Alexander undoubtedly will be called upon to pitch his third game of the series in an effort to stem the tide of Red Sox success. The two teams left for the Pennsylvania metropolis early tonight, the Phillies fairly deep in gloom and the Red Sox confident that the championship is but a step away. If Alexander should prove a winner in his own ball yard tomorrow, the sixth game of the series will be played in Boston Thursday.

"Alex" Is Phillies' Last Hope.

Alexander is the last hope of the Phillies. He is ready and anxious to go back in the box, and is sure to give a good account of himself. He won from the Sox last Friday, and was defeated yesterday only by a fierce batting rally in the last of the ninth. The Phillies, themselves, feel that if they can give big "Alex" any sort of offensive support, he will put across a victory tomorrow that at least will give the National Leaguers a fighting chance in the series.

The Philadelphia batters took rather kindly to Ernest Shore's offerings today and made more hits than they had registered in any one of the three previous conflicts. The power to drive in runs was lacking, however, and eight of the visitors were left stranded on the paths.

But "Gavvy" Cravath sent Lewis back to the left field fence again today to catch a drive that on the Philadelphia grounds would have been a hit into the stands and good for the circuit. A little luck in placing these long hits tomorrow would make all the difference in the world behind a pitcher of Alexander's ability, and there are many students of the game tonight who do not share the confidence of the Red Sox that tomorrow's contest will be the last.

Yesterday's Game Commonplace.

Differing widely from the two sparkling, blood-tingling games of Saturday and Monday, today's contest was decidedly commonplace. The Red Sox got away in front and were never headed. Their margin never was very wide but it seemed at all times sufficient, and there was little to stir the crowd to the high pitches of excitement that marked the struggle of yesterday.

The Phillies made a threat in their half of the eighth, because "Tris" Speaker again had trouble with the sun and let Cravath's single bound over his head, the runner pulling up at third with a three-bagger to his credit. Two were out at the time, and the fans were not inclined to take the situation seriously until Luderus, who seemed to have found his batting eye at last, slammed out his third single of the day and sent Cravath scampering over the plate. Dugey went in to run for Luderus and further complicated the situation by stealing second. Whitted, with a single, might have tied the score, but his fast liner went directly at the Boston pitcher, who gamely knocked it down and threw the Philadelphia left fielder out at first.

Phillies Lack Driving Power.

In both the first and second innings today Philadelphia had runners on second base with only one out, and in neither case were they advanced as far as third. In the first, Bancroft was left at the Keystone sack when Paskert and Cravath both struck out. In the second, Luderus led off with a single, was sacrificed to second by Whitted and left there. The lack of driving power at the psychological moment has been the deciding factor against the Phillies, for tonight, while the score of games stands 3 to 1 against them, the Phillies have scored six runs to their opponents' seven.

Boston was lucky to score its first run today. Barry walked to begin the third inning. Cady laid down a bunt that ordinarily would have been an easy out, but Chalmers, in the box for the Phillies, slipped, as he went for the ball, and could not recover himself until Cady was safe at first. Shore sacrificed Barry to third, and Cady to second, and the former scored a moment later, when Hooper was credited with an infield hit on a ball that Niehoff should have gotten.

It looked here as if the Sox were in position to make enough runs in this one inning to decide the contest, but their attack failed. Scott popped up a foul, and Speaker was out on an easy roller down the first base line.

The Winning Run.

The second and eventually the winning run came over in the sixth, when Hoblitzel singled and raced home on Duffy Lewis' screeching double to the left field fence. Lewis had driven in the winning run yesterday, and he was easily the hero of the crowd today.

His defensive work in the field this afternoon was little short of wonderful. He was credited with six put-outs and each chance that came his way was a difficult one. Up against the fence one moment, he was dashing toward the infield at another, to snatch a ball from his shoe tops.

George Chalmers, the third Philadelphia pitcher to fall before the hefty hickory stocks of the American League champions, hurled a fair game of ball. He allowed only eight hits, Hoblitzel levying on his slants for three of that number. Chalmers is a native of Scotland, but he came to this country at an early age, and has taken to the national gome with all the skill and cunning of an American boy.

Today's game was the last in which the players share the receipts. A total of $144,899.50 awaits division among the members of the two teams. The winning team will receive $86,939.70, or 60 per cent. of the total.

$3,779 For Each Player.

As 23 players of each team are eligible contestants in the series, the individual share of the winners will amount to $3,779.98 each if the division is equal. The players themselves are the authorities in deciding how the money shall be disposed of and may reduce the allowance to utility men who have figured little in the activities of the league season or of the series, by vote among themselves.

To the losers will go $57,959.80 or 2⅝ shares of $2,519.12 each, if the division is equal.

The players' profits this year are not equal to those of 1911 and 1912, the record crowds at the two games played on Braves Field failing to offset the restricted attendance at the Philadelphia park.

During these first four games 123,040 persons have watched the play of the teams. They have paid $268,332.50 for their places. Of this sum the National commission will receive $26,833.25. Each club treasury gains $48,299.55 from these games and will be further enriched as will the commission's strong box by the receipts at subsequent contests in which the players have no financial interest.

Thousands Shut Out.

The crowd which witnessed the game today unexpectedly proved smaller than yesterday's record-breaking outpouring. That today's figures did not eclipse those of yesterday, however, was not the fault of the Boston fans. Between 15,000 and 20,000 of them were turned away at the gates. Many ticket holders were caught in this way and were unable to make their way to the gates, which were closed long before the game started.

The scene outside the park was at times a riotous confusion. The crush became so bad that it seemed dangerous to continue the sale of standing room tickets and it was due to this fact that the attendance for today fell several hundred short of yesterday.

The day was made for baseball, a brilliant October sun having in its rays the warmth of early summer. Overcoats were cast aside and some of the fans set in shirt sleeves.

There was little to thrill the spectators outside the circus catches by Duffy Lewis, so the fans amused themselves largely with music and songs. There were at least a half dozen brass bands in the big enclosure, surrounded by as many organized rooters. As the home team was always in front, however, there was little for which to do any rooting.

Fans Held a Little Party.

So the crowds sang and cheered at intervals and had a very sociable and enjoyable little party. It was a very satisfactory sort of day for the home fans, but they did not leave Braves Field with that breathless excitement that marked the close of yesterday's ninth inning downfall of the mighty Alexander.

Neither Chalmers nor Shore shone with any great brilliancy. Shore's game was not up to the standard he set when he first faced Alexander last Friday. His work was good enough to win, however, and in baseball analysis this leaves little to be said.

Tomorrow Manager Carrigan undoubtedly will send George Foster to oppose Alexander. Foster pitched a brilliant game in Philadelphia Saturday, winning it with his own timely hitting. "Babe" Ruth, the big Boston left hander, has not yet had a chance in the series, however, and Carrigan may switch to him.

With Alexander missing from the Phillies' combination, the strength of the Red Sox was more apparent than in Monday's game.

Chalmers Pitched Steady.

Chalmers pitched steady ball, but it was not as effective as Moran's mound star. His spit ball delivery had a sharp break, but lacked the speed and perfect control that made Alexander's slants so hard to hit safely.

Shore's second appearance was not marked by any great improvement over his initial facing of the Phillies last Friday. Although he figured tonight as a winning pitcher, it was due more to the excellent defense at his back than to any phenomena twirling on his part. The sphere did not respond with the sweep or break that was so noticeable last week and while he tightened up at critical moments, his pitching was less impressive than in the game he lost.

The defense at Shore's back, however, was of a far higher character than in the opening struggle when the Red Sox were still unsteady and the breaks went against them. In the game today they played as if the glamor of the world's series had wore off and they were in the midst of an ordinary scheduled contest. Both the infield and outfield moved smoothly and swiftly and showed the same keen playing judgment that marked their work during the closing months of the pennant season.

Quick Thinking; Team Play.

An example of this quick thinking and team play occurred in the seventh inning when, with Chalmers on first as a result of his Texas leaguer, Stock smashed a hard bounder to Scott at short; who threw to Barry at second for a force out. Barry made a quick throw to Hoblitzell to catch the batter, but the ball slipped through Hoblitzell, hit the concrete wall and rebounded to the coacher's box. Manager Moran, coaching at first base, sent Stock down on the play, but Hoblitzell recovered the ball and by a quick throw to Barry caught Stock five feet in front of second.

In marked contrast to this clever turning of what appeared to be a bad slip into double play was one made by the losing team in the third inning in which the Red Sox scored their first run of the game. With Barry on first, due to a pass, Cady attempted to lay down a bunt. The ball rolled to the right of the box and Chalmers and Luderus tried to field it. Chalmers slipped and fell full length, covering the ball completely. Luderus was well into the diamond and when Chamers finally secured the sphere, Cady was sprinting for the unprotected first bag and the attempted sacrifice went as a hit.

The Deciding Factor.

The ability to think and handle the ball quickly was demonstrated on several occasions by the Red Sox and was the deciding factor in the victory, although the winners, by their hard and timely batting, backed up the defensive work with an attack which has been notably lacking in the play of the Philadelphia club in the series to date. In this connection the Red Sox varied their tactics today when on one occasion they switched their batting methods and caught the Phillies unprepared for the change. In the eighth session, with Speaker on first and one out, Hoblitzell brought off a perfect hit and run play when a sacrifice hit was the expected, driving the ball to right field on which Speaker easily made third.

This was not the only time that Hoblitzell came in for a great round of applause, for he found his batting eye early in the game and accumulated three hits and scored one of the two runs for the victors. Cady was the only other member of the team to secure more than one hit. Lewis added another to his string and still leads the club with seven hits in 14 times at bat, giving him a batting average of .500. Barry is second with five hits in 15 times at bat, while Speaker and Hooper are tied for third place with four hits each.

Among the National leaguers, Luderus, as the result of his three safe drives today, is the lead with a total of five hits in 14 trips to the plate. Bancroit still holds second position with three hits, although he did not increase his total today. Burns, Cravath and Stock are all grouped with two hits each. The Red Sox as a team have made 32 hits and the Philadelphia 18 hits in the four games.

INTEREST AT FEVER HEAT.

Record Breaking Throngs Watch Score Boards in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—Record breaking crowds watched the progress of the fourth game of the world's series in Boston as depicted on the many score boards throughout the city today. Although signs of deep disappointment were plainly visible on the faces of the throngs when Byrne flied out, giving the victory to Boston, the fans were still hopeful. They profess to see in the Phillies' seven hits today a recovery of their batting eye and place their faith in Alexander to check the Red Sox in the fifth game tomorrow.

Notwithstanding Boston's three straight victories, interest among Philadelphia followers of the game as not decreased in the slightest degree. What few tickets for tomorrow's contest that found their way to the hands of speculators were eagerly sought and the bleacherites began forming in line outside of National League Park long before noon. A few bets were placed here tonight at odds of 3 to 1 that the Red Sox would take the series, while betting on tomorrow's game was at 5 to 4 and even money that Boston would win.

SCHULKEN BEATS WRIGHT IN POOL EXHIBITION

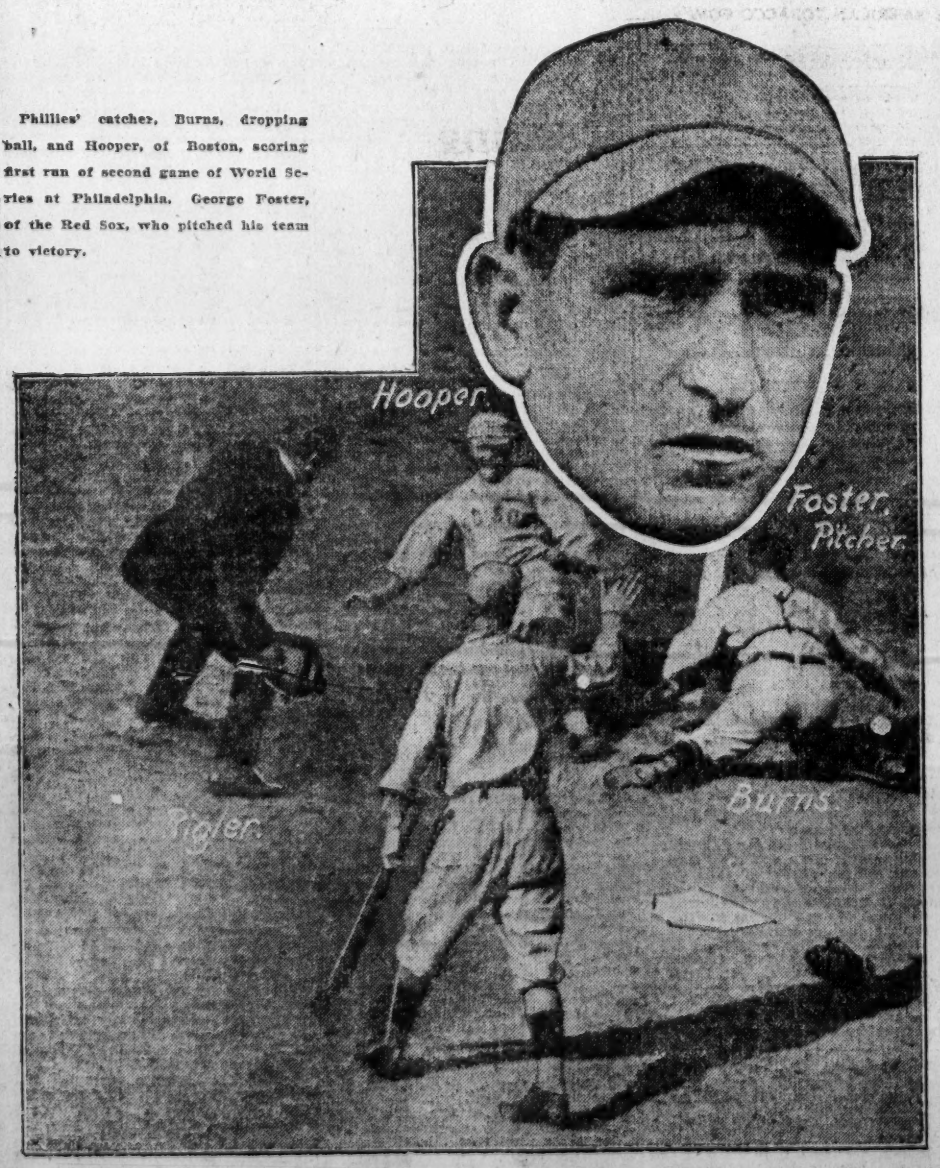
Last night at Warren's Cigar Store Mr. Sherman Schulken beat Mr. William Gus Wright, 100 to 76 in the first of a series of games between these two local experts. There was a large and interested crowd who witnessed the game. Their next meet will be at Baxter's Pool Parlors Tuesday night of next week, and the place for the third game will be announced later.

SUSPECT YACHTS OF USE AGAINST BRITISH OIL SHIPS.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Agents of the British government are investigating operations of certain yachts which they suspect have been prepared or are being outfitted, for use against ships carrying oil from Mexico for the British navy. Information has been gathered from Norfolk, Pensacola and from the Gulf of California.

Recent reports to British sources of the attack on a British tanker bound from the Mexican oil fields, strengthen the belief of the agents that the attacking ship was manned by Germans and carried one gun. The agents also have reported that they have information that a small ship manned by Germans and outfitted with such a variety of supplies as would be used by a warship left Pensacola, Fla., October 4th. They have not established her identity. Three other small ships recently disappeared from the Gulf of California. Charges that certain officers of the two interned German auxiliary cruisers at Newport were connected with the outfitting of the ship which left Pensacola are also being investigated.

Another phase of the investigation by British agents concerns allegations that bases for such ships have been established in the West Indies. The plan is said by the investigators to contemplate sending the small ships from American ports and outfitting them at the bases.



Phillies' catcher, Burns, dropping ball, and Hooper, of Boston, scoring first run of second game of World Series at Philadelphia. George Foster, of the Red Sox, who pitched his team to victory.

COULON'T AGREE WITH UTTERANCES OF FORD

Couzens Quits Auto Company after 13 Years.

Vice President, Treasurer and General Manager of Big Manufacturing Concern Resigns Because of Ford's Ideas.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—Announcement was made today that James Couzens had resigned as vice president, treasurer and general manager of the Ford Automobile Company.

"I could not agree with Mr. Ford's public utterances with reference to war unpreparedness and other subjects of world interest," Mr. Couzens said today. He has been associated with Mr. Ford in the manufacture of automobiles for 13 years.

Henry Ford will carry through to a finish his declaration that any bank which holds deposits of his own money or that of the Ford Motor Company will lose those deposits if they are in any way connected with the floating of the Anglo-French loan by New York bankers, it is stated.

"I look upon the loan of money to such men as only designed to continue the war and keep up the useless bloodshed. I look upon it as an attempt to sway public opinion in a neutral country by making a million Americans or more financially interested in the success of one set of belligerents because they hold their bonds. I say again that the commissioners should have been dismissed without compunction by the government upon their arrival here and sent back home.

"The loan means only sorrow and high taxes for thousands of men and women in England and France. Every cent that goes from this country; every shell that is made; every ounce of powder that is sold to the belligerents means only more murder and destruction. I will have nothing to do with it, and I have no respect for any who have to do with it.

"Back of it all is the military ring that profits financially. * * * It is not a matter of national honor, or horror over the plight of an invaded country, or even of sentiment for, or against a belligerent, it is gold purely and simply. If they could sell to Germany they would be just as willing to close contracts with that government for their supplies.

"I have no apologies to make for my position. I believe that the whole thing is waste on a gigantic scale premeditated by the men who make money from war.

"I do not blame it on the Kaiser, the Czar or any other executive, nor upon the commanding generals. They are controlled by a ring that overpowers them.

"I believe that Prussian militarism should be crushed, but I believe also that all militarism should be crushed. British navalism is as much a cause of the conflict as any big army.

"Our President has felt the pressure of this ring that owns war and uses it upon the world when it wants to, but he has resisted it and I believe he will continue to do so. It is up to the peoples of the nations to stop war. With this awful daily example before the world, I believe it to be the best time to remind the people that they can end all war. The press of the world could stop this war, if the press of the world would."

Mr. Ford, when informed of the action of the Toronto city council in canceling orders for automobiles made by the Ford Motor Company, because of Mr. Ford's remarks upon the loan and the commissioners who are arranging it, said he was not concerned by the action. "It is for the Canadian city to choose whether its sentiments in the matter shall take offense at my reasoning and supplant its business sense in the transaction of business. The loan is a gamble with the money of Americans upon the success in war of the nations back of it, and that success is not a certainty."

THEATRICAL

The advance representative of the National Grand Opera Company arrived in the city yesterday to perfect the preliminary arrangements for the coming of the operatic organization of song birds to this city on Saturday, matinee and night, October 23, when they are scheduled to appear at the Academy of Music. The repertoire, which proves to be a most attractive one, was decided upon, and will not be changed. Opera patrons, therefore, may safely make a choice of the productions they desire to attend, without the possibility of an eleventh hour change. The operas to be given will be as follows: Verdi's "Rigoletto" for the matinee and Rossini's "Barber of Seville."

The National Grand Opera Company has been appearing for the past ten years in London and the large cities of Europe and this will be the first tour of this country, which was decided upon on account of the present European strife.

The organization is a large one, including an orchestral corps of strength, and a chorus equally adequate and efficient.

Musical critics of the large cities of Europe where the National Grand Opera Company has appeared are enthusiastic in their praises of its roster of principals, chorus and orchestra. The company carries special scenery and costume and property effects, for all its productions and travels in its own special train of Pullman cars.

"It Pays to Advertise."

One of the best plays produced in recent seasons bears the title "It pays to Advertise," and Cohan and Harris count it as one of their best successes. The play proves its title, and every rusty old business house in the country that has "something the matter with it" should send its representative to see it and find out the reason, for there are thousands of rich old conservatices like Cyrus Martin, the head of the soap trust in the play, who need a few practical illustrations of the fact that "It Pays to Advertise." The play is the funniest combination of circumstances ever staged, but as a practical lesson to those who do not believe it teaches a great truth. Cyrus Martin quarrels with his son, and the latter goes into business in the new way, determined to succeed through advertising. He scores a big success, as any energetic young man is bound to do if he advertises judiciously, and his skeptical father is in the end glad to buy into the new firm. Every newspaper publisher, and every town knows the man who does not believe in advertising, and when the players glibly tell of the success of O'Sullivan Rubber Heels, Uneeda Biscuits, Gillette's Safety razors, the American Tobacco Company, Ivory soap, Kellogg's corn flakes and other immense concerns created through advertising, then there hardly need be anything local in the estimate placed upon the work of the play producers who entertain while proving that every line of business is sure to become stagnant unless it is advertised.

"It Pays to Advertise" is to be the attraction at the Academy of Music tomorrow night. Seats are now selling at Plummer's.

"Marse Covington" at the Royal.

The distinguished character portrayer, Edward Connelly, late of the stage play, "Marse Covington," has transferred his personality to the screen and presents at the Royal today an elaborate screen version of this great stage success, based on George Ade's lovable story of a true Southerner, by the same name.

"Marse Covington" is a great big human interest story of a beloved Southern character, which is typefied by the unctious accomplishments of Mr. Connelly, who originated the role on the stage. It tells a true to life story, as any one who has read George Ade's writings will suppose, and should have an appeal all its own for Wilmington amusement lovers.

Covington Halliday (Marse Covington), the true Southern gentleman—naturally a gambler, his only vice—is accompanied to war by his faithful Dan. His family dies while he is away. Dan refuses his liberty. Covington and his granddaughter are turned out of their home, but the Colonel's pride is ever present. A Yankee wants the granddaughter; he saves the house—loves the girl, and—well Marse Covington is a true gentleman and does not interfere with Cupid. This, in short, is a synopsis of this extremely interesting heart-appealing drama. It is presented by Metro in five big acts, with 200 true to life scenes, and is said to possess one hundred genuine thrills. It should attract a large crowd at the Royal today.

"Diamond from the Sky" Today.

Today's chapter of the thrilling "Diamond from the Sky" serial at the Bijou is full of great thrills, and in fact, may be termed the most thrilling yet in this sterling serial production that has been packing 'em for the past 11 weeks. There are a number of important incidents that have a direct bearing on the outcome of the story, in this chapter. Blair Stanley and Vivian Marston have an interesting part today; the Diamond from the Sky comes into other hands again; Arthur Stanley makes an important find; Esther makes the most important step of her life—and many other interesting and vital points are unfolded in today's two-reel chapter.

Bruno Lessing's famous Ghetto story "The Song of Songs," which was published in the Cosmopolitan some months ago, has been adapted to the screen in a great two-reel feature, and the resulting drama is a work of art, under the title, "When the Call Came," It relates the world-old but ever new story of the influence of religion, one's up-bringing, and the forces which go back into the history of the various races which make up this composite population in America and still influence the thoughts and actions of the present generation. It relates the pathetic story of a pathetic love, which never reaches its fruition because of a difference in religious faith, and leading in this great drama is pretty Edith Roberts, with Otto Kruger playing opposite her.

"When Lizzie Went to Sea," is a great Nestor comedy with Eddie Lyons, Victoria Forde and Lee Moran, while, for good measure, a great sixth reel will be thrown in, "Every Man's Money," a Powers drama with Sidney Ayres and Doris Pawn.

Kalem Feature, Grand Today.

The DeLuca Bros., who have leased the Grand Theatre for the next three years, are doing everything in their power to convince the movie fans that they are giving the best show in town. This will be easily proven when you see "The Call of the Dance," a great big four-reel Kalem "Broadway Favorite" on today at the cozy Grand. Yancis Dolly, whose wonderful grace prompted Cornelius Vanderbilt to transport the whole "Merry Countess" company to his Newport home for a special performance, some years ago, is the dansuese featured in Kalem's four-act "Broadway Favorites" production. "The Call of the Dance." Miss Dolly is one of New York's theatrical idols, and her appearance in the "Broadway Favorites" feature is a feather in Kalem's cap. This famous dansuese enacts the role of Natalie, a child of the slums, in the motion picture production. The girl's passion for dancing lifts her from her squalid surroundings to a place among the most famous artistes on the stage. Her beauty almost brings about her destruction, however, when it causes the head of the powerful vice ring to determine to possess her. Here is a story you should not miss. No expense has been spared in the staging of this mammoth production and the Kalem company stand back of it, as they do for all of their features, and they claim they have no equal when it comes to producing pictures.

The next is a one-reel comedy by the Vitagraph company, "The Siren," featuring Margaret Gibson, Alfred Vosburgh and Anna Schaefer. It's just a scream, from beginning to end; so don't fail to get in on the good things; the admission is only five cents.

Tomorrow, the Biograph company presents a two-reel feature, "The Rehearsal." The cast includes Vera Sisson, who is well known to the movie fans. She left the Universal company to accept an engageement with the noted Biograph company, and for the benefit of her many friends she has been making wonderful progress, and will soon appear in a mammoth feature. Jose Ruben, Madge Kirby and G. Raymond Nye are also in the cast.

Ladies Free Tonight.

The Harme Associate players tonight will again be hosts to the ladies of the city, and every lady who is accompanied by one paid 30-cent ticket will be admitted free to the Victoria to see an all new and elaborate revival of the sweet play, "East Lynne," provided that seats are reserved before 6 P. M.

The "East Lynne" which will be seen tonight is a brand new version and is one which will strongly appeal to those who care for clean, wholesome plays. All of the scenes of the book that could be used to advantage in the stage version have been retained and every one can assure themselves in advance of a real dramatic treat for this is what the Harme Players promise.

In book form "East Lynne" sold up into the hundreds of thousands of copies. The book is the work of the noted authoress, Mrs. H. Wood. "East Lynne" really needs no introduction to Wilmingto theatre-goers only to say that the Harme Players promise a most elaborate production of the play.

A character which will be immediately remembered is that of Lady Isabel Vane, which will be in the hands of Miss Ragan, the leading woman of the company who has already made many friends in our city.

For Friday night and Saturday matinee and night the offering will be a big scenic production of "Jessie James, the Missouri Outlaw." The play is known to most everyone. The plot and scenes are laid around the famous outlaw, who, at heart was a good and kind man, who was ever willing and ready to help one who was in need. It has been said of Jessie James that he never harmed a woman or a child and often took desperate chances of being himself killed or wounded rather than take a human life. In the version of "Jessie James, the Missouri Outlaw," which will be offered at the Victoria the better side of the famous bandit's life is shown—the good that was really in the man.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

Teaching of Harmful Effects of Alcohol in Schools Urged.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—The State convention, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, devoted the morning session yesterday principally to hearing reports on departments of special work, with a particularly stirring appeal for scientific temperance work by Miss Lillian Phelps, the national organizer. She told the ladies of the convention that the campaign to press upon the people, especially the rising generation, the great injury that strong drink inflicts on the human system is one of the most effective means of spreading sentiment for temperance, and appealed that when they return to their home unions the delegates, one and all, place the greatest possible emphasis on this feature of the work.

Miss Phelps spoke also, on the national and the state organs of the Union and received great numbers of subscriptions. Miss Emma Hutchinson spoke in the interest of temperance work in connection with the Sunday schools of the State; Miss Ida Millis on anti-narcotics, and Mrs. Arthur Lyon on proportionate and systematic giving.

There was a very gratifying report on the North Carolina White Ribbon, the State organ, by Mrs. Ellen J. Y. Preyer and, following this, a noon-tide prayer service conducted by Miss Frances Ufford.

In the afternoon the convention took steps to make more effective the work as to essay contests in the schools. There were talks on Peace and Arbitration by Mrs. Mary M. Davis; Fairs and Open Meetings by Mrs. G. H. Walters; Mercy Work, by Mrs. A. H. Yearby, and Medal Contests, by Mrs. Mary E. W. White.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Secretary Lansing announced today he would not vote on woman suffrage in New York this year because he has not had time to go to New York to register. Inasmuch as he will not vote, the Secretary has declined to express his views. Other members of the cabinet and the President will vote for suffrage in various state elections.

INFLUENCE OF WOMEN.

"Women are a wonderful influence in the lives of most great men," says the Washington Post, and upon women rests the responsibility for family health. To her they look for help in times of sickness, and the attention of every wife and mother in this vicinity is called to the rare combination of the three oldest tonics known, which Druggist Robert R. Bellamy guarantees in Vinol,—iron for the blood, beef peptone for strength, and the body-building, medicinal properties of cod livers. It will pay overworked, weak, rundown people, delicate children and feeble old people to try it.

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Clean Your Sluggish Liver Better Than Calomel and Can Not Salivate.

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

If you are bilious; feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of energy, vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable, liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.

Why not a "Paint Up Week"?

The Mr. Best who named his girl Very was wise.

Every week is oyster week in Wilmington.

This country could not afford to recognize Villa for being anything but a belligerent.

There's nothing left for Villa to do but keep on fighting and running away so he can live to fight some other day.

What is more delightful than autumn on the Cape Fear and down by the sea where the fish are fighting like wolves?

A New York dispatch says Mrs. Russell Sage "quietly celebrated her 87th birthday." That is among other things that might be left to presumption.

The old-fashioned gentlemen who used to think their word was as good as their bond passed laws in order to keep their bonds from being "straw bonds." Our fathers were right.

Certain papers are differing as to why we should adopt a policy of "adequate preparedness" in this country. We are for preparedness because it is safer than unpreparedness.

Theoretically a navy has captured the United States, but probably it hasn't the least theoretical idea what to do with such a big country after it has been captured.

During the Corn Show, November 16 to 19, we are going to have a "Made in Wilmington" parade. We are making many things in Wilmington and among other things we are making good. One thing we should never do is to make faces at each other.

It matters not whether our sympathies are with one side or the other in the European conflict, when it comes to an issue between America and any other nation, all Americans should be "more than neutral"—for America first, last and all the time. That is the gist of the President's latest utterance on the subject. While he has evidence that some American citizens are thinking more of some other country than of America, he is so confident that their number is comparatively small that he is "in a hurry to have a line-up," that he and all the world may witness that the overwhelming mass of Americans are standing on the side of "America, first, last and all the time." The few who are more interested in the welfare of some other country he would have ostracised by the vast majority who are "more than neutral" when the issue is between America and any other nation.

Caldwell county's first fair opens at Lenoir today and will continue three days. The prospects for the fair appear bright. "The directors," it is announced, "have given much time and attention to the amusement feature." The most sensational feature of the fair, it is said, will be daily flights by an aviator, and thousands of the mountain people for the first time will see a machine that flies. Among other things, there will be a grand display of fireworks. That is all right, just so there will be a grand display of Caldwell's wheat, corn, pumpkins, buckwheat, honey, rye, oats, hay, forage, mountain beef cattle, hogs, poultry, etc. Caldwell raises no cotton, but it is a prosperous county where the people live off the fat of the land. When Caldwell people sit at the head of the table there is something on it—all but the sugar, coffee, tea, crockery and cutlery made in Caldwell. We once boarded with one of Caldwell's best citizens and he had all sorts of good things to eat and a great abundance of it, because he had nine girls and one boy whose popularity was unbounded.

FOR AMERICA FIRST.

President Wilson's address to the Daughters of the American Revolution at Washington on Monday ought to strike deep into the heart of every American—native or naturalized. The President's speech was a reminder to all of us to remember our patriotic duty to our own country and to swerve not from our duty and devotion to America and her principles, regardless of the contending monarchies in Europe, entirely different systems from the American system, which depends entirely upon the consent of the people who are governed by their own representatives chosen from among themselves.

We fear many Americans have not remembered that and that there is no class of sympathizers with the European belligerents free from the President's mild but earnest impeachment. The President's speech indicates that he feels that the spirit of his neutrality proclamation has not been observed. Sympathizers in many cases have gone so far as to be actuated by motives and the change of brotherly or neighborly sentiment of one class of American citizens towards another is ample proof of it. Differences have not been of a mutual character, a mere matter of opinion, nor have they been respectful or tolerant, but partisan, radical and uncompromising on the part of many.

Some simply forgot about the spirit of neutrality and have permitted some antagonisms among themselves over a war in which they are not concerned as Americans but only from a humane point of view, only possible of being taken without bitterness and resentment. When Americans of any class speak intolerantly about the opinions of each other, they have failed to heed President Wilson's neutrality proclamation issued early in the war, calling upon and urging Americans to remember that it was not their war and not to take part in it by either act or spirit. His speech to the D. A. R. is only an amplification of his neutrality proclamation, accompanied by a tone of reproachfulness, indicating that he is satisfied that lots of us have forgotten all about the spirit of neutrality—neither for nor against, neither against nor for, neither "pro" nor anti. The partisans in their sympathies are the guilty ones at whom the President aims.

We don't think it is a very large class, as the President expresses it. The President expresses confidence in the trueness and loyalty of the great masses of Americans whose ideals are the same, whether they are native Americans or Americans by choice between the monarchical lands of their birth and the land of freedom here in America. Yet he does not want Americans to become so biased or to become such partisans of merely alien belligerents that they are only for America so long as it favors their side and are not for it when it deals with this or that belligerent in the course of international controversy. It matters not to a true American which belligerent is to be dealt with first or last, it is his duty to take his "stand for America first, last and all the time," as voiced by the President.

Our interest in the terrible conflict in Europe, he emphasizes, is one of humanity and not of partisanship, which is unneutral and un-American. America has reminded the belligerents of both sides of their international duty to neutrals and to each other and to humanity, and in doing that, America is entitled to the loyalty and support of all true Americans, even if controversies of an unpleasant nature are the result of performing a duty that America owes to herself and to all her people and to all humanity.

The principles of the governments at war are not only different from ours but antagonistic to ours, so that after all it is our sacred duty as native and adopted Americans to hold to our cherished and adopted principles above all others. Therefore, we ought to be and are for America first, for there is no other country standing for the ideals and principles of America—the ideals and principles which all of us prefer to all others and to which we are committed and will adhere to by standing by free America.

HEADING OFF THE BOLL WEEVIL.

Georgia can't do a thing to the Mexican cotton boll weevil, now ravishing the cotton crop of about forty counties, but already the farmers of that state, with the assistance of the state and national departments of agriculture, are taking steps to offset the damage that the weevil will do to Georgia agriculture by making the growing of cotton hazardous if not unprofitable. Up to this time no method has been discovered to eradicate the cotton pest, so when it invades a section its farmers are compelled to depend on other crops than cotton.

There is one undeveloped resource that the cotton growers can fall back upon to take the place of cotton. That is to raise grain and forage and beef cattle and hogs, and engage in the dairying and creamery industry. Grain and forage are the raw materials that go into the making of meat and butter and other dairy products, so the Georgia farmers are being drilled into the idea that they can defy the weevil and make themselves independent of the cotton pest. They don't have to worry about growing cotton for a living.

Some of the Georgia counties are already making a success of raising beef cattle and hogs, and Putnam county has set them all the pace with a money making co-operative creamery. Other counties are making a study of its methods, for the creamery plant at Eatonton has been remarkably successful. There is a guaranteed return on the money invested in the plant and the business, while the farmers are making splendid profits along the cream routes. They own the creamery in common and sell their own cream to their own dairy and then get their share of its profits as well.

Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas have had the weevil but the farmers diversified their crops and don't even give the cotton pest credit for doing them any damage, compared with the results obtained by branching out into other money making features of agriculture.

BAD SITUATION IN CHARLESTON

We are not quite able to understand why a municipal contest in Charleston should be of such a nature as to embrace issues that involve life and death. We can understand why men are willing to fight and die for cardinal principles but we cannot conceive of mere municipal issues worth fighting over to the death. We are at a loss to know what municipal issues could call for shooting and cutting among any set of partisans in numbers that make it necessary for the militia to be called out to preserve order. Where are the police?

We understand why both sides in an election should be very earnest, but the issues must be very grave when voters are willing to go to war with each other. Mayor John P. Grace has given Charleston such an administration that his opponents were bent on overthrowing it with Major T. T. Hyde at their head for mayor. We thought it was to be an election to be decided by ballots and not a revolution to be decided by bullets. It is difficult to conceive why the Charlestonians should have issues that called for bloodshed in their settlement.

ARGENTINA MAY MAKE BAGS.

The Argentina government has been greatly interested in fibre production for making bags and burlap cloth, and it is one in which our government should be equally concerned. In Argentina a year ago a commission was appointed by its president to study the possibilities of promoting a fibre industry and to collect data with a view to establishing factories for the manufacture of such fibres in order to meet the great consumption of such materials as bags and burlaps, now bought from countries abroad.

The commission reports that many different fibre plants can be grown successfully in Argentina, and that they should be grown in sufficient quantity to produce cloth enough for ten million bags a year. It says a factory to cost $424,000 will manufacture the cloth and it recommends that the government should encourage the growing of fibre plants and put up the factory necessary.

No doubt Argentina can free herself from the purchase of bagging and burlaps from India, Russia and other countries which cultivate fibre plants. We believe the United States can do the same. Investigation and experiment will show that we can grow coarse fibre plants in the greatest abundance in the South. We have not tried is about the only reason we know that we are not growing numerous fibre plants in the South.

The people in the British Isles used to have about as many scraps as the Mexicans, but they fought to a finish and had their last notable battle April 27, 1746—more than 169 years ago. This battle was fought at Culloden Moor, about four miles from Inverness, Scotland. The Duke of Cumberland routed the army of Charles Edward, "the young pretender to the throne." The descendants of some of the participants in that battle are among the best citizens of North Carolina.

CURRENT COMMENT.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who used to cuss the Democratic administration for the low price of cotton?—Fayetteville Observer.

We come about as near believing in national prohibition as in local option, yet we are not going to fall out with anybody who happens to hold a different view.—Durham Herald.

A man in Greensboro is advertising for a 44 Colt's revolver which he lost between the Normal College and a certain church. The question arises as to which place had he been on to which place was he going and why did he have the revolver?—Newbern Sun.

Twenty-five counties of the State are having State supervision of road construction for all or a good part of their road-building efforts and other counties are falling in line rapidly, according to Chief Road Engineer W. S. Falls, of the State Highway Commission. Lee, Harnett and Stokes counties are among the latest to join the ranks in this movement. No doubt it would be to the advantage of Robeson to fall in line in this movement. Perhaps one of the reasons why Robeson is behind in building roads is unwillingness to profit by expert advice from outside.—Lumberton Robesonian.

The Washington county boy who made 83 bushels of corn on an acre this year will hardly stand out as the champion boy corn grower of the State, but his record is so far ahead of the state average of corn per acre that he is a shining example to the great majority of Georgia farmers. The purpose of the boys' corn clubs is not to produce huge yields of corn on a few scattered acres, but to turn the attention of farmers generally to the need of raising some corn in addition to other crops and to prove to them that with proper soil preparation, seed selection and cultivation, good crops of corn can be produced almost anywhere in the State.—Savannah News.

When the last city directory was issued for Kinston The Free Press estimated from the little more than 4,300 names, which appeared therein, that the population had grown close to 12,000. The figures shown by Census Taker Bagby are therefore somewhat disappointing. They nevertheless show a splendid growth for Kinston during the past five years. Mr. Bagby has listed 9,706 residents of Kinston, as against something over 6,900 shown by the government's 1910 figures. Mr. Bagby estimates that there are at least 500 or 600 in the city, whom he could not reach. The Free Press believes Mr. Bagby's estimate to be conservative. In fact, it would not be surprised if there were not 1,000.—Kinston Free Press.

The total registration for greater New York this year was 667,781, a gain of 7,745 over that for 1914. As this was generally regarded as an off year, the fact that the registration has gained instead of losing may be due in part to a gain in population of the city, but the more probable explanation is that many more voters than was anticipated are taking a lively interest in the adoption or the rejection of the new constitution and of the adoption or rejection of the woman suffrage proposition. In either case it is encouraging to note that the voters are interested. It is only by the ballot that the will of the individual can be indicated, and upon the intelligence and patriotism with which that ballot is cast depends the fate of popular government—New York World.

By way of the University News Letter we learn that Mr. R. F. Beasley, editor of the Monroe Journal, believes with all his heart that a fundamental source of social ill, in all its modern variety lies in holding land out of productive uses for speculative purposes. He wants to bring all land, used and unused, on the tax books at its sale price and to take off all taxes on improvements put upon land by the man that works. It would double our population, says he, and multiply our wealth ten times over in the next ten years. The other day in Chattanooga, an Alabama banker, who owns two square miles of ancestral land, startled the Southern Education Conference by charging the tragedy of poverty upon land monopoly and absentee landlordism. Exempt the first forty acres from taxation, said he, and impose a progressive super-tax upon all holdings above forty acres.—Winston-Salem Journal.

Mr. Carnegie has signified his willingness to give $10,000 for the erection of a library for the negroes of Greensboro if Greensboro will furnish the lot and $1,000 for the support of the institution. Negro citizens have already taken the steps necessary to furnish the lot, and all that remains for the city to undertake the upkeep, which it is understood the commissions would like to do. The position of the commissioners is undoubtedly the right one. We have in Greensboro many negro citizens of solid worth and intelligence, these wish the city to do something toward providing for them a public library, as is provided for the white people; and their wishes should be respected by the city. The question of the desirability and necessity of education, for white folks and for negroes, is no longer debated. A public library is simply an educational institution, an educational necessity. Greensboro has become a negro educational center, and Greensboro people have wished these institutions to come here. It is entirely in order that the considerable reading population, amongst the negroes, should have a good library, and the city owes to them much the same sort of duty it owes to the white reading public.—Greensboro News.

DEFICIENT BABIES WANTED.

Better Baby Contest Managers Want More Subnormal Babies.

(State Board of Health.)

"It's not the perfect babies we are after so much this year as it is the defective babies," said Mrs. J. Bryan Grimes, director of the Better Babies Contest to be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the State Fair next week. "And," said Mrs. Grimes, "some of the prizes this year will go to the babies showing the greatest improvement from last year. We are especially anxious for mothers to bring their children whose average score last year was below 90 or 95."

From Mrs. Grimes' statement, the purpose of the contest is to help mothers raise 100 per cent babies from 50 per cent babies; to help all mothers have better babies and to let those who have standard babies know it.

The Better Babies contest has grown to be no small feature of the State Fair. This fact was verified last year. Parents whose trains were late wired for their engagements with the Better Babies contest to be held open; long distance messages came from others prevented from being there at the appointed time. One man, finding that if he waited for his train his baby would probably be too late to be in the contest, paid $16 for jitney services in order to reach the contest before closing hour.

This year the contest promises in every way to be as attractive and as instructive to mothers as ever before. Scores of babies have been entered, and the plans for the contest are practically complete.

"SHIP CANAL FROM OCEAN TO RIVER."

To the Editor of The Star:

This project proposed by Brother George P. Cotchett, it seems to me, should receive encouragement locally at least in proportion to the interest in it awakened in our sister city of Charlotte. Next to getting an idea in the public mind is getting it in the public eye and often times the getting it in the eye fixes it in the mind.

Why would it not be a good thing, therefore, to have a topographical cut made of the size of an ordinary business envelope showing the proposed canal, with an estimate of the cost of its construction, and interest our public-spirited citizens to have same printed on the backs of their envelopes? I am quite sure either or both the Imperial Blueprint Company and the Southern Map Company of this city could, with the assistance of their expert engineers, prepare a blueprint thereof from which suitable cuts could be made for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL D. SATCHWELL,
Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 12, 1915.

CRIME IN CHICAGO DECREASED WITH CLOSING OF THE SALOONS

Sunday's Record of Crimes Lowest in History of Police Department.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Closing of saloons in Chicago on Sunday for the first time in 44 years resulted in the day passing with the lowest crime record in the history of the police department, Chief of Police Healy announced today. Out of the 7,152 saloons in the city, only 28 were found to have violated Mayor Thompson's closing order. Most of the violations were of a minor character, only one saloon keeper being arrested.

There were only 16 arrests made for drunkenness yesterday, and 47 on Saturday, as compared with an average of 243 for the two days during several months past. Saloon keepers estimated that they lost $400,000 yesterday as a result of being obliged to close.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT.

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Samose does not contain a particle of starch or pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat and which does not build up good healthy tissues. Samose has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner and absolutely restores health to all the organs.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Samose, J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. will return your money without any quibbling.

TO HAVE CONFERENCE ON SCHOOL INSPECTION

Board of Health Appointed Committee Last Night

To Discuss With Board of Education Means of Extending Work—Dr. Nesbitt Shows Need and Benefits—Reports.

With a view to arriving at means of securing adequate medical inspection of the school children of the city and county, a committee composed of Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, and Drs. J. B. Cranmer and C. P. Bolles, was appointed by the Board of Health last night to confer with the Board of Education at an early date. Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county health officer, was authorized to attend the conference.

The need of medical inspection of the school children was set forth in the monthly report of Dr. Nesbitt to the Health Board and he suggested ways and means by which this work in the schools, which has just been inaugurated by the Department of Health, can be greatly enlarged and will result in great benefit to the community. This new feature of health work was discussed at length by the members of the board and it was decided to appoint a committee to go into the matter fully with the Board of Education.

All the members of the board with the exception of Dr. Cranmer, were present. Chairman W. A. McGirt presided and Dr. John Thames, clerk of the board, kept a record of the proceedings. Following the reading of the regular monthly reports, a number of routine matters were taken up. The purchase of a horse to be used in reaching out-of-the-way places in the county, which are not accessible by motorcycle, was authorized, provided suitable arrangements can be made.

Dr. Nesbitt's monthly report, outlining his plans for a thorough medical inspection in the schools of the city and county, is as follows:

"During the past few years we have been making investigations and planning for the medical inspection of the public schools of the city and county. The actual visiting of the schools began yesterday morning and so far we have inspected the children in the primary grades of the schools in the fifth and first grades. While it is too early in the actual experience of examining children to establish a mathematical basis of percentages with reference to defects and to actual needs our brief experience has served to show you how great a good can come from thorough supervision of the health of young school children and from following cases from the school room to the home as a means of insuring that these children shall get proper medical attention and proper care.

"The work done by Dr. Stiles of the United States Public Health Service in the schools of the city and county is now showing its value in the condition of the children. Mr. Blair informs me that this evidence is not confined to the appearance of the children but that there is an actual considerable increase in the individual efficiency of the children and a considerable decrease in absences from school and in tardiness. It is evident that many parents made prompt and effective use of the advice given by Dr. Stiles and his assistants at the time of their examination and this in itself proves that these examinations and this advice should be continuously available in order to secure the best results.

"It was my plan to begin the medical inspection of schools this year in a small way and at the end of the school session or early next spring to propose a method and plan for combined infant welfare and school inspection service which will be thoroughly suited to our needs. I feel, however, that I cannot refrain from placing these plans before you now with the hope that some means will be provided by which we can begin this important work in the very near future. Even the most superficial examination of children reveals the necessity for this work and impels me to ask your immediate interest.

"It is practically certain that not less than 15 per cent. of the children in the primary grades urgently need nose and throat treatment. At least 20 per cent. of these children have defective visions. Probably 10 per cent. show dangerous nutritional deficiencies. A still larger percentage show evidence of digestive disturbances. Several children were found who, without proper medical supervision, will become chronic invalids in all probability as the result of their present physical deficiency. Almost all these children are from families who cannot afford to furnish skilled medical attention for the length of time required. If these physical deficiencies are allowed to continue untreated, we shall certainly not be able to lessen the number of non-productive citizens. If on the other hand these children can have now the attention that is necessary their individual efficiency will be more than doubled when they arrive at maturity. The wealth of every community is measured by the vigor and productivity of its citizens. Human happiness and human progress are the result of the physical state of the individual. There can be no more valuable investment than that which will promote manhood and woman hood, and it is a possibility in this direction that I am now presenting for your consideration.

"The efficient medical inspection of school children is worth but little unless the defective and diseased children receive the care they need, and unless the parents are instructed and helped in providing proper conditions for their improvement. With our present equipment, one nurse and such time as Dr. Thames and myself can give the matter, we can accomplish but little. We are at this time very much occupied with other phases of public health work. Dr. Thames has the care of the country schools in which during the past two years he has done very valuable work. This work he will continue. I shall give as much of my time as is possible, but not having been in general medical practice for a number of years, I feel very keenly my deficiencies in dealing with the medical needs of the children. The best results can only be obtained when these inspections are made by physicians who have have a considerable amount of experience in general medical practice both in hospitals and in private work. The plan I hope to employ includes the employment of two physicians for part of their time and an additional school nurse. It is essential that these be employed during the entire year and

The most important result of the banquet last night of the alumni of the University of North Carolina in the Elks' Temple, was the forming of a permanent organization of the club on motion of Marsden Bellamy, Esq. J. O. Carr, Esq., was unanimously elected president; Dr. E. J. Wood, vice president, and Louis Goodman, Esq., secretary and treasurer.

There was about 40 alumni present for the banquet arranged for the association by the committee composed of J. O. Carr, Esq., Marsden Bellamy, Esq., and Louis Goodman, Esq. The long table was well laden and the lunch added much pleasure to the occasion.

Marsden Bellamy, Esq., opened the business meeting by outlining the purposes of the organization, which is to help further the interests of the University and make this organization an extension of the university proper, to aid in getting desirable students and securing better appropriations. W. P. Stacy, Esq., made a short, but interesting, talk regarding these needed appropriations. J. O. Carr, Esq., told of the need of enthusiastic support and proposed that a telegram be sent the University stating that the Wilmington alumni had held the most enthusiastic meeting for many years.

C. C. Loughlin, Esq., made an interesting talk, telling how the local association could be made an extension of the University itself. Among the many other features discussed, athletics was not left out, and W. P. Mangum, Turner, Esq., explained what a great advantage athletics was to an institution like the university, and how local organizations could render moral support by enthusiasm, and by helping to select good men to feed to the institution as likely recruits. Mr. C. C. Covington told of how the local club could be of direct help to the institution in both securing students, financial assistance and recruiting the athletic teams, to keep loyalty warm and enthusiastic.

One of the leading talks was by Dr. E. J. Wood, who stated that he had had to go to Philadelphia to find out that the medical department of the University of North Carolina was the best in the United States. Another of the speeches on the optimistic side was that of Mr. O. A. Hamilton, who told of the big increase of students, which was making larger appropriations necessary in the matter of supplying dormitories and class rooms.

All present enjoyed both the talks and the luncheon, and went home feeling much closer to the University. Among them were R. W. Strong, W. P. M. McKoy, Thomas Moore, R. Strange, phy, Graham Kenan, W. P. Stacy, A. M. McKoy, Thomas More, R. Strange, C. C. Covington, Dr. E. J. Wood, C. Giles, Marsden Bellamy, B. O. Neill, E. A. Metts, J. G. McCormick, Louis Goodman, J. C. Stevenson, R. D. Dickson, Charles Yopp, Henry Heyer, A. O. Hamilton, P. D. Satchwell, Harry Solomon, F. J. Duls, Louis Stein, C. W. Johnson, C. C. Loughlin, W. P. McNeely.

TO ENDEAVOR TO GET WORK STARTED ON CUSTOM HOUSE

Congressman Godwin Spent Yesterday in Wilmington—Leaves for Home.

Congressman H. L. Godwin spent yesterday in Wilmington and while here went quite thoroughly into the matter of securing a new custom house for this port. He was returning to his home from Southport, where he went on Monday of this week. Before leaving last night for his home at Dunn, he stated that he was going to Washington in a few days and that he was going to confer with officials and push actively the matter of securing the new custom house.

While in the city, Congressman Godwin went over the site for the new custom house and called on Col. Walker Taylor, collector of customs, for the purpose of thoroughly acquainting himself with all the details of the proposition. As was announced earlier in the week, the opening of bids for the custom house has been held up temporarily in order that the government might secure an additional strip of land that was desired. It is understood that arrangements for securing have been practically completed and with this difficulty out of the way it is hoped to secure action on the bids at an early date.

Colonel Taylor was recently in Washington and conferred with the officials. Since he assumed charge of the office of collector of customs he has pushed the matter of securing the new custom house and has had an important part in the progress that has been made. He will continue his efforts and expects to be successful in having work started at an early date.

He has had the active support of Senators Simmons and Overman and of Congressman Godwin in his efforts.

MYSTERY — ADVENTURE

GRACE CUNARD——FRANCIS FORD

BOOSTING FOR STATE BUREAU OF PUBLICITY

Mr. Bion H. Butler in Wilmington for Few Days.

Field Secretary of New Organization Will Call on Representative Business Men—Meeting with Fine Success in Work.

Mr. Bion H. Butler, field secretary of the North Carolina Bureau of Publicity, arrived in Wilmington yesterday to spend several days here in the interest of that organization. Mr. Butler is well known to the people of the State as a writer and champion booster of the agricultural and industrial resources of North Carolina. Two years ago at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Press Association at Wrightsville Beach, he made an address on the subject, "North Carolina Slopping Over With Opportunities," that was widely commented upon and proved to be an important factor in the awakening of the people of this section to its many advantages.

Mr. Butler has had the opportunity to travel entexsively and for many years was a newspaper man. He has proved his faith in North Carolina by living in this State for the last 20 years and he is emphatic in his opinoin that this State has more varied resources than any other in the Union.

Mr. Butler's work just now is to secure 100 men, firms or corporations, who are willing to contribute $50 each for financing the newly organized Bureau of Publicity for North Carolina which has for its chief object the securing and creating of such publicity as will promote the development of North Carolina. He has been in a number of the cities of the State and has met with a cordial reception. The present organization of the bureau is tentative but on next Tuesday night a meeting will be held in Raleigh to effect a permanent organization.

Since the meeting of representative citizens in Raleigh several months ago, when such a bureau was decided upon, the wisdom of the movement has been abundantly proven, Mr. Butler states, and that it is going to be an important factor in the development of the State is assured. The movement is backed by such practical men as Mr. Henry Page, of Aberdeen; Mr. George Holderness, of Tarboro; Mr. Hugh MacRae, of Wilmington; Mr. R. C. Hood, of Greensboro; Mr. C. O. Kuester, of Charlotte, and a number of others.

The purpose of the organization as set forth in the constitution is as follows: To study the needs, resources and community progress of the State by sections; to secure and create such publicity as will promote the development of North Carolina by bringing people of thrift and industry to us, especially to our agricultural lands; to acquaint people in one section of the State with the advantages and progress in other sections; to aid in offering homes at fair and reasonable prices, and protect prospective settlers from unjust speculators and false representations; and to assist each section in securing the class of settlers suitable to that locality.

"The returns that will come as a result of an investment of $5,000 will far exceed what would ordinarily be expected," said Mr. Butler last night. "Suppose that one family should be brought into each county in the State. That would mean one hundred new families for North Carolina. What they would contribute in one year to the wealth of the State would be a great deal more than $50 for each country. And they would help to bring others and the good results would continue in an ever increasing ratio."

Mr. Butler is as an enthusiastic booster for the State bu he is particularly interested in the Sandhill country which comprises the territory contiguous to Southern Pines along the Seaboard Air Line from Raleigh to Hamlet. In a short talk before the Rotary club last night he pointed out what had been done in that section which two decades ago was considered almost worthless. Now it is thickly populated and new people are coming in every day. It has become by the use of intelligent methods one of the most productive sections in the State. What has been done in that section, it is the purpose of the State Bureau of Publicity to undertake for the entire State.

Mr. Butler recently spent several days in Greensboro and secured a membership for the State Bureau of Publicity from every firm, corporation or persons that he called on. He expects to secure a number of memberships from public spirited citizens in Wilmington.

Those backing the organization are doing it as public service and not for individual gain. It is strictly a public service—broad minded public service—organization.

Mr. Butler has been publicity agent for the State fair which will be held in Raleigh next week and has had a prominent part in awakening a greater interest in it. More counties will have exhibits this year than ever before. New Hanover will be one of the counties to have an exhibit that has not heretofore been represented.

Mr. Butler speaks in the highest terms of Capt. E. J. Parrish, of Durham, president of the State fair, who has planned the fair upon a broad basis. Captain Parrish has sought to make it really a State publicity exposition, Mr. Butler states, and he has succeeded wonderfully well. And the result is that there will be better exhibits and more people visiting the fair than ever before, he declares.

"Durham is going to take a day off," said Mr. Butler, "and her people are going over to Raleigh to the fair. And Durham county will have an exhibit, will represent in miniature her commercial, industrial and agricultural life. Alamance county is going to have a big cotton exhibit. Rowan county has asked for more space in which to place her splendid exhibit. There will be the exhibit from New Hanover counties and dozens of others in the State. It is going to be representative of the wonderful resources of our State."

Dies in Orange, N. J.

Mr. Louis J. Otterbourg, brother of the late Mrs. George Honnet, of this city, and formerly a resident of Wilmington before moving to Chicago to live, died Monday at East Orange, N. J., at the home of his niece, Mrs. Robert Katz, of East Orange. The funeral will take place in that city. Mr. Otterbourg's death is mourned by many friends here, as he continued to visit here and keep up his old friendships. Dr. J. Harry Honnet, a nephew of Mr. Otterbourg, living here, was at his bedside when the end came.

MACCABEES FALL RECEPTION

Large Attendance and Excellent Speaking Followed by Interesting Musical Programme.

The Odd Fellows' Hall was filled to overflowing last night for the 1915 fall reception, given by Cape Fear Tent, No. 15, Knights of the Maccabees. A strong address of welcome was made by Mr. E. B. Johnson, R. K., while the musical programme had a number of starring features.

The opening ode was sung by the members of the Tent, invocation was made by Mr. R. L. Merritt, after which came the address of welcome. The musical programme was supported ably by the West-Whitlock Orchestra. Two leading features were the selections by a quartette composed of Messrs. E. Hardison, T. J. Daniel, L. W. Willis and C. Bradshaw; the Croom Quintette added much to the evening's entertainment by rendering two numbers from the programme scheduled by the regular quartette; Mr. J. F. Harriss, Jr., was encored several times on his different solos, especially "Big Ben."

An interesting change from the printed programme was the reading of a selection by Mrs. Cross, after her address. The selection was a humorous sketch from "When I Rode the Goat."

Delicious refreshments were served and a real genuine good time was evidenced on every side. The Maccabees is growing to be one of the really strong organizations of the city. Their fall reception is a genuine reception and is made an eminently enjoyable affair. The programme was well arranged and thoroughly enjoyed.

MR. LITTLE RETURNS.

Joseph W. Little, Esq., candidate for Congress from this district, returned yesterday from Southport, after making an extended tour of this Congressional district, and reports a fine trip. Mr. Little has now visited every county in the district and is optimistic over his candidacy. He says the farmers are all in fine spirits on account of the price of cottor.

Mr. Little received much attention from the press of the district during his trip. The following is from the Red Springs Citizen of October 8th:

"Hon. Jos. W. Little, of New Hanover, candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, paid Red Springs a visit today, meeting many old friends and making new ones. He is meeting with much encouragement in his rounds, and the campaign will be unusually lively between him and the other aspirants as it nears the primary stage. Mr. Little is of pleasant address, a good speaker, and makes a favorable impression by reason of sound and logical argument in his addresses. He promised another visit in the near future."

CLYDE OFFICIALS HERE.

Assistant Traffic Manager of Steamship Company Visits Wilmington.

Mr. H. E. Maynard, assistant traffic manager of the Clyde and Mallory steamship companies, accompanied by Mr. H. K. Woodfin, traveling freight agent for the same lines, spent yesterday in Wilmington with Mr. C. J. Backer, the popular local agent for the Clyde Steamship Company. They left last night for New York. This was the first visit that Mr. Maynard had made in four or five years and he was greatly pleased to note the great progress that has been made.

He was especially impressed with the many new buildings that have been erected and the improved appearance of the city. While in the city he met a number of the business men. He and Mr. Woodfin are just completing a tour of the South for the purpose of visiting the various points at which the Clyde and Mallory lines touch.

ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT.

Col. Walker Taylor Made Officer of National Association of Agents.

At a recent meeting of the National Association of Fire Insurance Agents which was held at Indianapolis, Ind., Col. Walker Taylor, of this city, was elected as vice president. Colonel Taylor, who has long been one of the active members of the organization, was unable to attend the meeting on account of having to be in New York to attend a meeting of the United States government collectors in that city. The honor of being elected vice president in his absence, is, therefore, a distinct compliment to him.

WANT COMMISSIONERS TO PUSH MATTER ACTIVELY

Rotarians Still Interested in Securing Desirable Manufacturing Sites.

The Wilmington Rotary Club wants the Board of County Commissioners to push more actively the laying out of manufacturing sites on the county property on Smith's creek and to this end the president of the organization was authorized at the regular business meeting last night to write to the chairman of the Board, requesting information as to what has been done. The Rotary Club has been actively pushing this matter for some time and has been promised the cordial co-operation of the Commissioners.

There were quite a number of matters discussed at the meeting last night which was presided over by Mr. Eric Norden, in the absence of President John R. Murchison, who is out of the city. Mr. Meares Harriss, the secretary, kept a record of the proceedings.

At the close of the business meeting, Mr. Bion H. Butler, field secretary of the State Bureau of Publicity, spoke briefly on the aims and purposes of this organization. He was assured of the hearty support of the Rotary Club in carrying on this work.

Mr. Butler, in his own inimitable style, contrasted the resources of North Carolina with those of his native State, Pennsylvania, and also told something about the Sandhill country, where he has lived for 20 years.

FRANKS GETS 6 MONTHS.

Colored Man Sold Bottle of Liquor. City Ordinance Breakers.

The Recorder's court was very busy yesterday, but only one case was disposed of. B. Franks, a colored man, had sold a bottle of liquor to a friend, and being pressed pretty close, confessed his offense to the court. He is a crippled man and hasn't much chance in the world, so the Recorder decided to be unusually light with him, and offered him his freedom, if he paid $25 fine and the costs. Franks had evidently not engaged extensively in the sale of liquor, or else had been extravagant with his money and had to go to the roads for six months in default.

The Recorder was not prepared yesterday to give complete judgment in the cases of the violators of the city driving ordinances. The following men will get hearings tomorrow: Messrs. Wiley Whitehead, Robert Garrell, Sammy Roy Johnson, Richard Shew and Clayton Westbrook, and the following colored men: George Jones, Chas. Sikes, Julius Lee, Oliver Johnson, J. H. Hawes, William Moore, Joe Bethea, John Bowen, Red Slocum and James Underwood.

Mr. Yopp Made Big Catch.

Mr. Walter E. Yopp, the well known undertaker and enthusiastic fisherman, came back from Mason's Inlet on Middle Sound Monday as the champion fisherman for the day. He fished from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. and landed 54 blue fish, one black bass and three channel bass.

CELEBRATE COLUMBUS DAY

Suitable Memorial Services Held by Knights of Columbus Last Night —Address by Father Dennen.

There was a large attendance of those honoring the great discoverer of America last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall. This is the first really conspicuous celebration of the anniversary of the discovery of America in this city, and the large crowd went away realizing more keenly the courage of Columbus than they had formerly.

The assembly was called to order by Chairman Charles A. Price, and the leading feature was the speech on the life and achievements of Christopher Columbus, by Rev. Father C. Dennen. The local interest had been increased by the recollection that had Columbus not discovered America, all here would have all been in Europe now during the present war, but after Father Dennen had told of the hardships Columbus overcame, all present felt that he should be honored for giving our forefathers an opportunity to come to America.

Among the interesting features of the programme was the introduction by Mr. James J. Alen, preceding the address by Father Dennen. The musical programme was made much more interesting by the selections by the Croom Quintette, and the solos by Miss Annie Banks. The national anthem, sung by the assemblage, was lead by Mr. Daniel Lockfaw.

It is the hope of the members that a wider interest in America's discoverer can be instilled and that the celebrations can be made permanent affairs, supported by all the American people who have benefited by this discovery. A great many states in the United States recognize this as a legal holiday.

The ambulance is of the same type used in larger cities, and is up-to-date in every respect. It will accommodate two persons on stretchers besides the surgeon and chauffeur. The name of the institution is inscribed in golden letters on the dark green surface of the body of the car.

The order for the machine was made to the General Motor Car Company through Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., of this city, and has been turned over to the hospital authorities. The gift is much appreciated and is a great improvement over the horse-drawn ambulance formerly used.

Manager Bailey recommends this show as one of the very best of the season; in fact, he says there will be none better this season. The seat sale thus far does not indicate that the theatregoing public realizes really what a great show this is, he says.

From Weak and Lame To Well and Strong

Try them. Foley Kidney Pills will do for other men and women—quickly—what they have done for Mrs. Straynge.

"Last year, I got almost down with my back," writes Mrs. H. T. Straynge of Gainesville, Ga., R. No. 3. "I suffered from inflammation of the bladder, and whenever I stopped doctoring I grew worse. I tried Foley Kidney Pills, and after taking them awhile my bladder action became regular and the stinging sensation disappeared. I am now stronger in my back than I've been for several years, and since getting well, I've stayed well and had no return of the trouble."

Start in now to use Foley Kidney Pills. You will feel an improvement from the very first doses, showing how quickly they act on kidneys and bladder. They stop irregular urinary action, ease pain in back and sides, limber up stiff joints and aching muscles. They put the kidneys and bladder in sound, healthy condition. Try them.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—MRS. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—MRS. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—MRS. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—MRS. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

DEAN KIRKLAND HEARD ON "UNIVERSITY DAY"

Institution's 122nd Birthday Celebrated Yesterday

Says We Should Regard Government as the Expression of Our Own Highest Activities—New Note Struck by Committee.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—The 122nd birthday of the University was today celebrated in the manner that has been customary for several years. At 10:30 A. M. the various classes of the University formed in groups on the campus. After giving yells for their respective classes, President Graham and other popular personages, they took their places in line. The faculty, in caps and gowns, led the way, and immediately behind them, as next in the path of knowledge, marched the senior class. The double file procession entered Memorial Hall and took the places assigned for the students.

The exercises began at 11 o'clock in the following order:

Invocation by Rev. Homer Starr, of Chapel Hill.

University hymn by student body.

Address by Chancellor Kirkland of Vanderbilt University on "Patriotism—A New Interpretation."

Tennyson's "In Memoriam," read by Prof. M. H. Stacy, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Interger Vitae by the University Quartette.

Hail to U. N. C. by student body.

Benediction by Rev. W. R. L. Smith, of Chapel Hill.

Many noted Alumni and visitors were among the 2,000 people who attended the exercises. The main interest was, of course, in Dr. Kirkland's address. Among other things he said:

"Undoubtedly there are new duties for the citizen of today. Obedience to authority and respect for law and order do not sum up the demands made on us now. We should not stand aloof looking at government as an outside agency of external control. We should rather regard it as the expression of our own highest activities. The citizen of today must make positive contributions to the work of government. Modern democracy means the application of comprehensive plans and efforts on a large scale, at public expense, under public supervision, for the promotion of human welfare. The interest of the state is the interest of socfety.

"For the settlement of all these problems patriotic citizens must exert themselves. One favorite method of working today is by establishing societies for furnishing information on some special subject, for agitating in favor of some special reform. But while the most efficient service is usually rendered by large societies, one individual may sometimes start a movement of national significance. Again and again there is one leader—man or woman—who starts a work of national importance and becomes in a small community the radiant point of some special form of civic service. A poem may be written or an article for the daily paper, and from this may date a new era.

"* * * Our nation was born in a spirit of devotion. Our government was wrought out with care and consecration. Our liberties have been maintained at a sacrifice of treasure and blood, and who knows how often still these expenditures may be called for to preserve our freedom? A Canadian boy employed in the civil service lay dying in Rhodesia. With a smile on his face he said to his friends, 'It is glorious to die for the expansion of the empire.' If it is glorious to die for territorial expansion, why not also for the expansion of life, for the uplift of humanity, for freedom of the spirit, for the perfection of civic character?"

The Alumni Committee struck a new note this year. Hitherto it has contented itself with a mere invitation to all Carolina Alumni to come down to Chapel Hill for the exercises held there every October 12. This year the Alumni letter has been changed. The old invitation to come down to Chapel Hill, of course, still holds good; the following extract from this year's alumni letter shows the difference:

"We trust that wherever, throughout the State and country, as many as two or three alumni can come together that they will meet formally or informally, preferably Monday night, October 11th, and, in addition to the usual pleasures of such gatherings, that they will have some direct and uneloquent discussion of University problems, and develop some definite, practical plans for co-operation with the University in its work. We want the Alumni Association in every county in the State to be a sub-station for radiating the public service activities of the University into every home in the county."

REV. MR. HOLLEY EXONERATED

New Oreans, Oct. 12.—The Orleans Parish grand jury today in declining to return a true bill against Rev. Byron Holley, rector of the fashionable St. George's Episcopal church, exonerated the minister from glabe for the killing of Lansing F. Pearsall early yesterday. Mr Holley said he mistook Pearsall for a burglar when he found him in his home.

WILSON LEADS IN THE SALE OF GOLDEN LEAF

State's September Sales 6,000,000 More Than in 1914

Greenville Second, Rocky Mount Third Only N. C. Cattle to Be Admitted to State Fair—Dr. Headen Resigns.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—Forty-eight North Carolina tobacco markets sold leaf tobacco during September, the sales aggregating 38,195,730 pounds, of which 32,789,984 was first hand for the growers. The sales for September, 1914, aggregated 31,884,932 pounds, showing a gain of 6,310,798 pounds. Wilson led with 4,836,705 pounds first hand and 7,017,148 pounds total sales including resales. Greenville was second with 4,266,571 and Rocky Mount third with 4,002,378 pounds.

The other markets in their order were: Kinston, 2,958,527; Smithfield, 1,400,929; Farmville, 1,341,346; Fairmont, 856,532; Newbern, 900,204; Washington, 884,248; LaGrange, 861,542; Warsaw, 793,171; Wallace, 756,926; Goldsboro, 634,754; Winston-Salem, 631,040; Williamston, 638,992; Snow Hill, 561,096; Robersonville, 605,591; Pinetops, 470,050; Fair Bluff, 449,725; Henderson, 454,726; Ayden, 395,872; Durham, 271,487; Wendell, 337,046; Ahoskie, 299,974; Reidsville, 296,659; Pink Hill, 272,891; Spring Hope, 276,309; Zebulon, 261,468; Clinton, 234,305; Oxford, 247,483; Louisburg, 230,579; Fuquay Springs, 182,372; Lumberton, 154,344; Fayetteville, 88,239; Madison, 77,255; Apex, 79,390; Warrenton, 78,043; Tabor, 60,050; Sanford, 57,707; Mebane, 62,600; Youngsville, 58,711; Greensboro, 52,832; Raeford, 33,338; Creedmoor, 22,758; Burlington, 24,204; Stoneville, 15,150; Roxboro, 15,685; Elkin, 2,050.

Only N. C. Cattle Admitted.

At the suggestion of State Veterinarian B. B. Flow the State Fair management has decided to exclude all except North Carolina cattle from the fair this year. This is a safeguard against the introduction of the foot and mouth disease in this State. Sheep and swine are included in the order. This State has not yet had the least taint of this dread disease, and the desire is that North Carolina stock men can feel free to entrust their choicest stock to the fair. Indications are that the representation of the cattle, sheed and swine divisions of the fair, as a North Carolina display, will be by far the finest the State has ever had.

Dr. W. E. Headen, of Carteret county, having found it necessary to resign from the directorate of the Eastern hospital for the insane at Goldsboro on account of failing health. Governor Craig today appointed Dr. Ben F. Royall, of Morehead City, in his stead. Dr. Headen has been the president of the board and his retirement from the board will necessitate a reorganization. The other members of the board are W. L. Hill, Warsaw; F. B. McKinnie, Princeton; Dr. J. T. Hoggard, Atkinson; J. C. Cromartie, Garland; J. A. Beaman, Sampson; J. G. Anderson, Snow Hill; F. W. Habel, Raleigh, J. W. Thompson, Goldsboro.

MR. GEO. B. ELLIOTT SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION OF RALEIGH.

Tells of Practical Work of Men's Forward Movement in East Carolina.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—The Convocation of Raleigh, Diocese of North Carolina, meeting with the Church of the Good Shepherd, organized this afternoon with the appointment of committees, and devoted the evening session to hearing the report of Archdeacon N. C. Hughes and addresses by Dr. George W. Lay, of St. Mary's School, and George B. Elliott, of Wilmington, assistant general counsel of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Report of the year's work in the convocation by Archdeacon Hughes showed exceptionally gratifying progress in many of the parishes and a general forward movement. Dr. George W. Lay advocated systematic house to house canvasses of rural sections with follow-up work in providing church attention for all who can be induced to receive it.

George B. Elliott told of the practical working of the men's forward movement in the Eastern Carolina Diocese in which the parish of St. James' church, Wilmington, is a shining light. He appealed for a practical business-like view of church work as well as a zealous effort for the cause, which has provided all the privileges, comforts and real pleasures of life and having been received through effort of ancestors, should be passed on to those who are to follow by the men of the present generation.

Jitney Bus Hits Negro.

A jitney bus, driven by Andrew Johnson, yesterday struck the 14-year-old son of Peter Williams, colored, at the corner of Front and Walnut streets, giving him a few slight injuries. Chief of Police Williams, after an investigation, said that the boy had tried to run in front of the machine and no blame was put on the driver.

Spencer, vice president of the company, elected by the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of the late Col. A. B. Andrews, also was elected director for three years.

NEW YORK TAX LIST BOOSTED $100,000,000

Millionaires to Pay Heavy Increase on Personal Property

Rockefeller and Carnegie $5,000,000 Each—Remarkable Feat in Bridge Building—Stock Boom Overworks Brokers.

New York, Oct. 9.—In order to secure through taxation the funds necessary with which to run the government of the City of New York during the coming year, the assessed valuation of real estate for the year 1916 has been fixed by the tax department at $8,149,859,912, which is an increase of $100,000,000 over 1915. The city has been thoroughly combed by the representatives of the tax department for the purpose of ascertaining the exact amount of improved property which has developed during the past twelve months. It is hoped to raise the additional money required to meet the expenses of the government by this method rather than by imposing an additional tax on land values.

It is estimated that the total valuation of building operations during the past year amounted to over $100,000,000. This is regarded as indisputable evidence of the city's marvelous growth, inasmuch as the past year was considered a very dull one in building trade circles. The personal tax list shows an increase of $3,500,000,000. One surprising feature of this increased list is that there are 500 new millionaires in the city, the names of many of whom have never been before the public. At the head of this list appear the names of Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller, both of whom have been assessed on personal property valued at $5,000,000.

A remarkable and difficult engineering feat was completed last week when the immense steel arms of the great $12,000,000 railroad bridge over Hell Gate, which have been slowly growing out toward each other for many months, were finally connected and completed the joining of the longest steel arch of any bridge in the world. Each of these steel arms stretches for exactly 508 feet and 6 inches, and the ends met with a variation of only one-quarter of an inch. Designed to carry a heavier load than any other bridge in the world, each foot of the structure will be capable of withstanding 26 tons for weight of bridge and 12 tons for weight of load, a total of 38 tons. The span of 1017 feet springs two enormous concrete towers, one in upper Astoria and the other built on pins resting on rock 120 feet deep on Ward's Island The two arms have been sustained in midair by a corresponding weight of backstays behind the two towers. These backstays will be removed during the next three months and the remaining viaduct piers will be built, thus giving a continuous roadway from the easterly boundary of Long Island City to Port Morris on the mainland. The bridge will be a connecting link between the Pennsylvania and New Haven railroad systems.

The unprecedented trading in stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, which has average 1,500,000 shares a day during the past week, has advanced the price of membership to $62,000. The last previous sale was made a week ago at $60,000. The price of stock exchange seats is expected to go far beyond these former figures, as the increased volume of business now being transacted is increasing the income of members to more than double what it has been for several years. These conditions are in strange contrast with those which prevailed a year ago in Wall Street, when the exchange closed on account of the outbreak of the war. At that time many stock houses were compelled to dismiss their employes or to reduce their salaries. Now, however, everybody seems to be prospering. Practically every brokerage concern has had to increase its forces, and it is not unusual for many of the houses to keep clerks working on the books until late at night. In fact some of the firms have provided cots on which members of the office force may sleep, while others have made arrangements for rooms in downtown hotels for their employes in order to save them from making long trips to their homes.

Apple growers and dealers in this vicinity were today engaged in completing arrangements to give an apple to every soldier in the trenches and hospitals in Europe. A committee of the apple trade has the matter in hand, and it is expected that the shipment will be made in the near future. If the present scheme can be carried out, a steamship will take over a large cargo of apples, which will be distributed under the auspices of the Red Cross. President Wilson and Mr. Lansing, Secretary of State, will be asked to request of the belligerents safe passage for the consignment to the various fronts and hospitals. Apple dealers and growers have learned that many of the fighting men are suffering from the lack of fruit juices, giving rise to scurvy and other disorders. Surgeons who have returned from European hosptals are said to have approved the scheme to provide more fruit juices not only among the wounded but also for the men in the trenches. When the plan was first conceived it was feared that ships could not be found to carry over the apples. The scheme of chartering a chip to take over nothing but apples was then thought of, and it is believed that when the purpose is disclosed to foreign governments, there will be no opposition to the free passage of such a vessel.

Specifications recently issued by the Police Department show that there is to be a decided change in the styles of uniforms to be worn by policemen during the coming winter. Instead of the long overcoat worn last year which hampered the men considerably when running, it has been decided to substitute one that will not extend more than three inches below the knees. For the winter blouses, it has been decided to use snap buttons for fastening the flap at each side of the hip, as the hooks and eyes which were formerly used were found to be very unsatisfactory. During extremely cold weather, the patrolmen are to be permitted to wear black woolen mittens. The buckskin gloves, which are worn at the present time, do not protect the hands sufficiently unless they are heavily lined. The prospect of being allowed to wear mittens, it is said, has caused a wave of rejoicing to spread over the entire Police Department.

LONGACRE.

SMALL BOATS ARE NOT A "PLACE OF SAFETY"

Says Uncle Sam in Note to Germany on Frye Case.

Ask That, if Necessary to Destroy American Ships Carrying Absolute Contraband, Passengers Be Taken to Safer Places.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The United States in a note dispatched to Germany today to be presented by Ambassador Gerard on the case of the American ship William P. Frye asks that, if it is found necessary to destroy American ships carrying absolute contraband, passengers and crew be removed to a safer place than small boats.

The American government accepts the German suggestion in reply to the American proposal concerning a commission to fix damages for the Frye, agreeing to dispense with the umpire and leave the case to two experts, one from each country.

In agreeing to submit to arbitration the interpretation of the treaty of 1828 to determine whether it gives Germany the right to destroy American ships in order to stop contraband traffic, the American government holds that not only must warning be given the passengers and crew saved, bu that small boats are not considered a "place of safety" within the meaning of the international law.

TO HAVE CONFERENCE ON SCHOOL INSPECTION

that they be under the supervision of the Health Department and under the control of the Board of Health. During the summer months it is my hope to establish a milk station somewhat after the plan established by Mr. Nathan Straus.

"I have been assured by several of our leading physicians that they will assist in every way in their power in conducting a baby's clinic in connection with the milk station. Several of the milk producers have offered to donate milk for free distribution to the very poor. The equipment, pasteurizers, sterilizers, feeding bottles and other necessary impleemnts can be obtained without a very great expenditure. The public health nurses will take charge of this milk station during the summer months when the need for it is most imperative, and the school physicians will visit the homes of the infants under the care of the Health Department and supervise the care of our young from the time of their birth through the dangerous period of infancy, through their early school days to adolescence. We can give the little ones of the community a foundation of health and well being upon which to build a useful and successful future. We can guarantee to Wilmington for the future a very great increase in productive manhood and womanhood.

"In the short conference which I held this morning with the president of the Board of Education, Mr. Carr, and the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Blair, I was assured that these gentlemen stand ready to co-operate with the Board of Health in every possible way to secure this work. I would most respectfully suggest that the Board of Health name a committee to meet the Board of Education in conference to discuss the possible ways and means to carry on this great work. The expenditure involved will not be very great and the good that can be accomplished cannot be estimated."

Hard to Keep Sanitary.

That it appears to be a physical impossibility to render the county jail of New Hanover county sanitary and keep it so is the opinion of Dr. John Thames, assistant county health officer, as expressed in his monthly report to the Board of Health. We have during this month paid especial attention to the cells that had been infected by prisoners and had them thoroughly disinfected, he stated, and we are endeavoring to keep the jail in as good sanitary condition as circumstances will permit. He stated that the sanitary condition of the county home and farm is good.

Dr. Thames spoke in the highest terms of the new stockade which was recently completed. It is a magnificent structure, he said, containing adequate cells and rooms for the prisoners with a well arranged kitchein and store room and a large dining room. He gave an itemized list of the different conveniences which includes a clinic room for minor operations and isolated wards for patients.

In speaking of the schools which recently opened, Dr. Thames calls attention to the fact many of the buildings are small and improperly lighted and ventilated and that several of them are compelled to use water from shallow pumps for drinking purposes but that on the whole conditions have improved from what they were two years ago. The interest manifested in sanitation is most encouraging and the health of the children shows a marked improvement as the result of teaching hygiene and health in the home.

Dr. Thames submitted a statistical report showing the number of visits made to indigents in the city and county and other work done by the health office.

Stores Show Improvement.

Mr. H. R. Aiken, food inspector, reported that during the month of September, he graded and scored 77 food and soft drink establishments and in addition made 178 inspections of such places. He condemned as unfit for food ten boxes of grapes, one barrel of pears, one box of pears, one box of peaches and one box of plums. He expressed pleasure in being able to report a further improvement in conditions in many of the down-town food establishments and especially in a number of grocery stores.

The White Market led the list for September with a grade of 94.4 and the United Cigar Stores was second with a grade of 93.8. Many other establishments scored over 90.

Two down-town establishments moved during the month to other locations, these being May Bros., from 130 Market street to No. 24 North Front street and Batson's market from 108 South Front street to No. 115 Market. Mr. Aiken reports a marked improvement in conditions by both these concerns.

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE BECOMING LOPSIDED

High Street Car Steps and Continuous Strap-Hanging Is Responsible for This Growing Evil, Says a Medical Expert—Tennis and Other Things Also Blamed—Only Cure Is Exercise Planned to Correct the Abnormal Developement Which Has Been Induced By the One-Sided Strain

THE HIGH CAR STEP—CAUSE OF LOPSIDEDNESS

MISS MOLLA BUURSTADT
TENNIS CHAMPION

Scientists say we are becoming a race of lop-sides from the fact our women have to take high steps in boarding street cars and that once aboard they have to hang from straps.

The high step and the strap hanging causes one side of the body to develop more than the other so the result is one side is higher than the other.

The strap-hanging develops a tendency to throw the weight of the head, shoulders and upper part of the body on one hip bone or the other thus causing lap-sidedness.

The debutante slouch has the same affect while the new military walk has the opposite and allows the weight to be thrown on the entire system.

The lop-sided tendency can be cured by those exercises intended to develop the muscles of the back.

By bending over a number of times and then straightening, or by lying on the back and lifting the legs to an angle of 80 degrees a number of times the muscles of the back can be properly strengthened.

High steps on street car platforms have other effects than showing silk hose.

They and the despised strap from which many have to hang are causing a race of lop-sided women, scientists warn. The usual exertion in climbing a high step is throwing the pelvis out of position and literally making women higher on one side than on the other. The painful half hour or so of dangling from a strap is having the same effect and, my, but our women will look funny in several more decades, according to medical forecasters!

The pelvis is made up of the two innominate bones joining in the front and the sacrum and coccyx in the rear. The innominate bone really is three bones fused together—the pubis, ileum and another.

They fuse in what is called the acetabulum and into this fits the neck of the femur or long bone of the leg. When one steps upward as upon boarding a car, the femur ascends and forces upward the bones of the pelvis, which are movable. As the first step is usually about six inches higher than the upper, the side on which a woman takes the first step naturally is higher and on this side, the medical experts say, the woman naturally will "become higher" and proportionately lop-sided.

Dangling from a strap has a similar effect. The side on which the person is reaching, naturally is elevated while there is a tendency to allow the other side to lag so that the weight of the body is not borne by the backbone, but by one side of the pelvis. Result the same—a lop-sided woman.

SCIENTISTS IN EARNEST

Scientists are in earnest in their warning and foresee a race of women larger on one side than another in 20 or 30 years.

More than likely these women of the future will be larger on the right side while their left will be diminutive and you may look forward to babies being born in a similar condition. What effect it will have on men is not predicted, but it is expected there will be none as the pelvic bones of the female or more mobile and soft than those of the man. As his pelvis is more firm it can be seen that the street car lop-sidedness will not effect him.

The actual effect of this new malady is proportionate to the way persons board street cars. There is, of course, the rather robust old lady who grasps both rails with her hands, with an effort raises one foot, brings up the second and then remains on the first step a few minutes before repeating the laborious process. As she is old and her bones more or less well knit and very immobile, the effect upon her will hardly be noticeable.

But then there is the pretty girl with the rounded ankle and "fatted calf" who gets all of the effect of the street car step to the delight of the male rubberneck in back of her. When she takes the first step she leans forward so that quite a space of silk hose is shown. She does the same in taking the second step. In both processes she almost throws her hips out of joint and it is plainly evident that she is larger on one side than on the other. She is the one marked by the scientists as the best subject for the future lop-sided woman. If her twice daily stunt of ascending the high steps of street cars were not enough to cause the gradual transformation the way she hangs from a strap would quickly accomplish the result.

With her right hand she grasps the strap bringing the right hip up and then slouching so that all the weight is thrown on the left hip. For perhaps half an hour she remains in this position. The result is her backbone is weakened because it is not used in its proper capacity, the right hip is gradually becoming higher than the left and many of the organs are displaced and effected, those on the left being cramped while those on the right are given more space than they require.

GIRL RETAINS POSE.

This girl, if you were to follow her, remains in a lop-sided position most of the day, thus increasing her probability of becoming so. More than likely she is a salesgirl. If so you will find her in an unnatural position all day. She is either standing stooped forward with her weight resting on the muscles of the abdomen rather than on her backbone, or with one hip elevated above the other, thus throwing the weight on the lower hip. If she goes to a party or a dance you will find her during the resting period in the same unnatural position, with the result she is practically always lop-sided.

Then of course there is the athletic girl who swings onto the car while it is still moving and with brisk action mounts the two steps in a jiffy. The effect on her is little. She is used to allowing the weight of the upper portion of her body to rest squarely upon her spine, to stand erect even while strap-hanging. She more than likely never will become one of the future lop-sided sisterhood

A woman who is rather slender is more liable to the effect of the high step on the street car than one robust. In the first place her bones are smaller and more mobile. In the second she usually is more or less careless about her step while the other woman is more careful and deliberate in making the two-step ascent.

Not only are high stepping and strap hanging to have such results but various other occupations and pleasures as well. The housewife as a rule is subject to a tendency to become lop-sided. A woman carrying a baby also. The latter tries to throw the weight upon one high hip so as to relieve the pressure on the spine. The result is she becomes lop-sided and it is not unusual to see a mother who has raised a number of children already in that condition of lop-sidedness that scientists now are uttering a warning about.

While standing at the sink washing dishes or while preparing a meal the housewife finds herself falling unconsciously into that peculiar slouch. Washing and lifting heavy weights adds to the effect upon her hips.

Girls who play tennis frequently are said to be developing the same tendency on the side on which the racket is carried. In serving and in returning high balls the body necessarily is distorted so that the muscles on one side are always in play while those on the other are comparatively at rest—that is the muscles in the upper part of the body.

EFFECT OF TENNIS.

So there is real danger of women becoming lop-sided. The effect will be noticeable in a generation or two. The effect on the body iself will be but little other than organs on the smaller side may become abnormally small while those on the other become proportionately larger.

The effect may be prevented by taking proper exercise. In the first place a woman always should remain upright. The body is so constructed that the weight of the head, shoulders and upper part of the body is equally distributed to every part of the body. The weight first falls upon the backbone but later is distributed to the pelvis and then to the bones of the leg. If the person remains upright, shoulders erect, there will be no tendency to shift the burden of this weight upon any particular set of bones, but rather to allow the entire system to bear the weight.

The military walk now in vogue is doing much to establish this rule and causing women to walk properly erect.

It's predecessor, the debutante slouch, was just the thing to cause women to become one sided. It threw the weight of the body forward, and if it were indulged in to any great extent would have caused the person walking that way to become a rather freakish looking figure in a very few years. It was founded on that tendency to throw the weight of the upper part of the body on one set of bones instead of upon the entire system.

Fortunately with the advent of the war there came the new military walk that is doing much to restore women to proper erectness.

Then there is exercise to aid in straightening out the figure. The muscles of the back need daily exercise to keep the spinal column erect. By bending over and touching the floor and then straightening up again and doing this a number of times each evening or morning, the back will be straightened and strengthened so that there will be no tendency to allow it to shift its burden at the expense of some other set of bones.

The mechanical exercises, such as the elastic ropes with handles, attached to the wall, also has the desired effect. Women also may attain proper exercise by lying flat on the back on the floor and slowly raising the legs to an angle of 80 degrees. This is a rather hard exercise, but it has a wonderful effect on strengthening the back and really it is a weak back that is the whole cause of the difficulty.

Women of sedentary occupation also should follow this exercise. A girl who sits at a typewriter all day naturally allows herself to become bent or stooped from constantly bending over the machine. She remains all day without any support of her backbone and naturally her back becomes weak. If she will take the above exercises the back will be strengthened and there will be no tendency to become either stooped or lop-sided.

PROPER EXERCISES.

Mothers and housewives who have a tendency to become stooped also should take such exercises, and especially those women who have to carry their baby about in their arms and become stooped from doing it.

But beside these cares of the lop-sided evil, there is a growing tendency in many cities to do away with the high step as well as strap-hanging. The new trailers being employed in numerous cities have a very low step and they cause no tendency to swing the body weight to one side. The cars with folding steps are a bit shorter than those of old-fashioned cars, but they do not obviate the necessity of high-stepping. In a number of cities the height of the step has become a matter of litigation and the cities have decided to lower the car steps.

Strap-hanging too is a matter that has been taken up with more or less force by the Public Service Commissions of various states. Efforts are being made to do away with the straps by running enough cars at all hours to give each passenger a seat.

The railways, however, argue that during the rush hours of the morning and evening it is impossible to find a seat for everyone and therefore some will have to hang by the straps. This is caused by a great effusion of persons from office buildings and the desire of all to board the first car.

So while the tendency to lop-sidedness cannot wholly be eliminated because some must cling to straps and because the steps of cars are high, they can prevent this becoming a lop-sided race of women by taking the step in a proper manner and by taking plenty of exercise—especially that to strengthen the muscles of the back.

He Felt Small.

Dr. Oliver W. Holmes was small in stature. Upon one occasion he was present at a meeting which happened to be attended by a number of very large men, thus making his diminutive size rather conspicuous. One of these men—doubtless wishing to make him feel at ease—came up to him and said:

"Well, Dr. Holmes, I should think you would feel rather small among all these fellows."

"I do," replied the doctor; "I feel like a 3-cent piece among a lot of pennies."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MAY BE HALVED IN "VALUE"

Certain Favorite Stocks to be Quoted Today at Half of Monday's Quotations.

New York, Oct. 12.—When the stock exchange opens tomorrow, certain favorite stocks apparently will be halved in value, although in reality there will be no change in their worth. Thus Reading, Pennsylvania and Westinghouse, selling Monday at 161, 117 and 138 will be listed at 80 1-2, 58 1-2 and 69 respectively, unless there be the usual variation in quotations over a holiday.

The reason for this is found in an announcement made at the stock exchange today, asserting that one of several amendments to the constitution approved by the members, provides for quoting all stocks in terms of dollars instead of points, as heretofore.

Reading, Pennsylvania and Westinghouse, together with a number of other issues, are of $50 par value but have been quoted on a hundred point basis. In future they will be quoted in terms of dollars.

Another amendment provides for a charge of one-half the broker's commission of $12.50 per hundred shares for buying or selling stock quoted under $10 a share. Such issues include Missouri Pacific, Kansas & Texas, American Malting, Rumely, St. Louis & San Francisco, Wabash, Iowa Central, and Wheeling & Lake Erie.

The decision of odd lots dealers to return to their usual charge of one-eighth of one per cent above the market in selling fractional amounts of stocks (under 100 shares) also becomes effective.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Market Makes Good Advance Despite Much Liquidation.

New Orleans, Oct. 12.—Despite considerable liquidation the cotton market proved susceptible to buying orders today and at its highest stood 26 to 29 points over yesterday's final figures. The close was 24 to 28 points up. Favorable cables, bullish spot reports, the rise of 13 points in spots here and dispatches from the interior telling of extremely high prices for cotton seed, were the main bullish influences.

In the early trading prices bulged 23 to 24 points in sympathy with a much higher Liverpool than due, but realizing sales from longs caused a 10-point reaction.

The market improved, however, and in the early afternoon was at its highest. Telegrams quoting cotton seed as high as $40 a ton in the interior were taken to mean that oil mill people were becoming convinced the crop was very short.

Interior spot markets reported the highest basis of the season in several cases, while the spot quotation here was a new high level.

NO JOINT AGENCIES TO BE ESTABLISHED IN LATIN AMERICA

Federal Reserve Board Committee Decides Against Proposition.

Washington, Otcober 12.—The Federal Reserve Board today announced that for the present it would not establish joint agencies of Federal Reserve banks in South and Central American countries with the possibility that Reserve bank money would be locked up in long time loans subject to wide fluctuations of foreign exchange. Pioneer work in the Latin-American countries, the board decided, should be done by member banks of the Federal Reserve system and with this end in view it promised to support an amendment which would enable the members to co-operate in owning and operating ofreign banks.

Secretary McAdoo recently suggested establishment of joint agencies and the proposal was approved by President Wilson. Today the secretary, explaining that the plan he favored did not contemplate operations o fthe character objected to, joined in the action of the board in approving an unfavorable committee report.

Vice Governor Delano, Paul M. Warburg and W. P. G. Harding composed the committee.

PREPAREDNESS FOR COAST DEFENSE TO BE DISCUSSED.

A Principal Topic at Atlantic Deeper Waterways Convention.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The question of preparedness of the coast defense will occupy much of the time of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association convention at Savannah, Ga., November 9-12, according to Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, president of the association, who, with Representative Small, of North Carolina, was here today arranging with the War, Navy and Commerce departments for representation at the meeting.

Secretary Redfield will address the association on the value of waterways to commerce.

Secretary Daniels probably will be there and the War and Navy Departments will send officers.

A special train will leave Washington November 7, carrying delegates and representatives to the convention. Stops will be made at the capitals of Virgina and North and South Carolina, where the governors of those states are to take part in special exercises.

QUITS GOVERNMENT SERVICE.

Special Counsellor Anderson to Resume Practice of International Law.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Chandler Anderson, of New York, special counsellor of the State Department, will retire tomorrow from the government service and resume the practice of international law. Mr. Anderson, who was counsellor of the department under the Taft administration, was assigned as counsel to American embassies and legations in the war zone, when the European war started. Later he made a special investigation of prison camps and when he returned to America he prepared many of the notes that have been sent to the belligerents concerning seizures and detentions of American ships and cargoes.

MR. LANSING CONFERS WITH CARRANZA'S REPRESENTATIVE

Only a General Talk on Situation; No Steps Yet Taken.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Secretary Lansing conferred today with Eliseo Arredondo, representative here of General Carranza. It was their first meeting since the Pan-American diplomats decided that recognition should be extended to the Carranza government in Mexico.

The Secretary described the conference later as a general talk on the situation and said no new steps had been taken, as he still was awaiting responses from South and Central American governments.

Recognition in all probability will be given formally by the United States, however, within another week.

After the conference Mr. Arredondo said he had received telegrams from all parts of Mexico hailing the decision of the American republics with enthusiasm. In many of the demonstrations, he added, there were many outbursts of applause for the United States and the other governments.

NOVEL MASSAGE CREAM

Perfect Skin Food That Removes Wrinkles and Clears Complexion.

The most delicate skin will quickly respond to the soothing and tonic effects of Hokara and when this pure skin cream is used, pimples are soon a thing of the past.

As a massage cream or after shaving, it is unequaled, removing all irritations and making the skin soft and velvety.

Apply a little to the hands or face after washing and surprise yourself with the dead skin that comes off.

Hokara is the only antiseptic massage cream, and pimples, eczema and all skin blemishes soon disappear when it is used.

Although far superior to the ordinary massage creams and sold on a guarantee of "best you ever used or money back," yet the price is a trifle, only 25c for a liberal jar; larger size, 50c.

Sold on a guarantee by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

WILSON OPPOSES TREMENDOUS ARMY

Differs With Garrison as to Appropriations?

FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Garrison Would Increase Total Strength of Standing Army to 154,000 Men Instead of Present 88,000. The Line-Up.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—There is a wide difference of opinion between Secretary of War Garrison and President Wilson as to the amount of money that should be expended for National defense by the coming Congress. The breach will be equally as wide between the administration and Secretary of the Navy Daniels, unless the latter follows his usual course and submits to the ideas of his chief, Woodrow Wilson.

It can be stated without fear of contradiction by any reliable person that the following recommendations will be made by Secretary of War Garrison:

Increase the infantry by ten regiments.

A substantial increase in the cavalry and coast artillery, and that the field artillery be increased to five additional regiments, making the total strength of the standing army 154,000 men, instead of 88,000 as at present.

There is a proviso in the present law, however, which allows the present strength of the army to be increased to 100,000, "if the necessity arises."

Here is what the administration, that is, President Wilson and leaders of Congress, will ask for:

No increase in the infantry or cavalry.

Increase the field artillery by larger guns but no increase in men.

Congress will be asked to appropriate sufficient money to pay the National Guard, that is, privates, $48 a year. This would mean the first year $8,000,000 more than the present appropriation for the states militia and would be increased each year.

Experts on military affairs in Congress believe that under this incentive the National Guard would soon be increased to 200,000 men or even to the high water mark of 300,000.

It has been understood in Washington for some time that President Wilson favored the encouragement of the citizen soldier. He has never favored, it is said, a tremendous standing army or the commitment of this country to a policy of militarism.

James Hay, of Virgina, chairman of the House military affairs committee, will discuss these problems with the Chief Executive tomorrow afternoon. It is known that Mr. Hay is in thorough accord with the President's views and that Mr. Wilson will not agree to the enormous expenditures which will be recommended by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels.

VIVIANI OUTLINES BALKAN SITUATION

ain and France, in accord with her allies, have undertaken. They have weighed the difficulties. Our principal pre-occupation is the defense of our front, the liberation of our territory by mighty efforts to which we owe the victories already won upon our soil with the valorous support of our heroic allies, with our forces, sacrifices and our blood. No government could do otherwise in a duty so tragic, but so simple.

Anglo-French to Aid Serbia.

"But, without weakening our front, we have the further task of fulfilling duties which our interest and our honor impose upon us. We are in full accord with the general in chief of the French armies. The understanding between the governments of Great Britain and France is complete, and I cannot better express it than in the following form, namely:

"From now, France and England, in accord with their allies, are completely agreed to go to the aid of Serbia to the extent she has asked our aid, and to assure to the profit of Serbia, Greece and Rumania respect for the treaty of Bucharest, of which we are the guarantor. The British government and the French government are in accord with their military authorities. Russia has decided to join with her allies to help the Serbian people, and tomorrow her troops will fight alongside of ours."

"Gentlemen, we have done our duty to our ally," said the premier in conclusion. "Never has an accord been more direct and more complete between allies and never have we had greater confidence in a common victory."

When the premier concluded, M. Klotz, ex-minister of the interior, in behalf of numerous deputies, asked for an adjournment of the sitting until tomorrow so that the members might study the government explanations and policy.

This was agreed to and the chamber adjourned.

Grey's Statement Deferred.

London, Oct. 12.—The eagerly awaited statement of Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, on the Balkan situation was not made today in the house of commons. It was deferred until Thursday.

ESTIMATES FOR COAST DEFENSE.

Discussed With the President by Chairman Shirley, of Sub-Committee.

Washington, October 12.—Representative Shirley, of Kentucky, chairman of the fortifications sub-committee of the House appropriation committee, discussed estimates for the coast defense today, with President Wilson. He said he expected an appropriation would be made by the coming Congress to begin the fortifications at Cape Henry, Virginia. He added that he expected the proposed fortifications to be completed in about three years and that they wouuld be equipped with sixteen-inch guns.

will exceed that of succeeding years, in order that urgent deficiencies may be filled promptly. The general board has been consistently recommending four battleships a year, but last year only three were provided for. The previous year only one battleship was granted. The general board's original plan of having a fleet of 48 first-class battleships by 1920 consequently has suffered materially.

It is understood that President Wilson intends to discuss the naval programme in his annual message, and to make of it an administration measure.

Last Year's Programme.

The building programme last year provided for 16 submarines, so that the total of the under craft, built and building, is 70. Although effective means of combating undersea warfare apparently have been found in Europe, it is the purpose of the Navy Department to recommend at least 30 submarines for next year, so as to furnish an adequate number for defensive purposes. In the of 16 submarines a year, a few of which next four years, however, an average would be fleet submarines, would be maintained. That would bring the total to about 170 in five years.

It is not known as yet what the plans of the navy are for the organization of the new fleet, but the general belief in naval quarters is that the plan of having a fleet in the Pacific will figure materially in the new programme.

when successes were won at Tarnopol and Trembowla. Austro-German reinforcements were rushed up, and hard and incessant fighting has taken place since. Gen. Count von Bothmer commands the Austro-Germans in this sector and the German official report of today says that the position of the "German troops with him is unchanged."

BULGARIAN MINISTER SHIPPED.

Is Handed His Passport by British Government—Relations Broken.

London, Oct. 12.—The Bulgarian minister to Great Britain was handed his passport this afternoon, according to an announcement by the Central News.

The official announcement said:

"His majesty's government announces that the Bulgarian minister has been handed his passports and that diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Bulgaria have been broken off."

GERMAN STEAMER SUNK.

The Nicomedia Destroyed by a British Submarine—Crew Landed.

Kalmar, Sweden, via London, Oct. 12.—The German steamer Nicomedia, with a cargo of 6,800 tons of iron ore from a Swedish port for Hamburg, was sunk in the Baltic yesterday by the British submarine E-19.

The Nicomedia was sunk off the southern point of Oland, a Swedish island which Kalmar sound separates from the mainland.

The crew was given 15 minutes to take to the boats. It is reported that they all landed safely.

The German steamer Nicomedia belonged to the Hamburg-American line. She was of 4,391 tons, 384 feet in length and was built in 1901.

The British submarine E-19 is a new boat, the last submarine of that letter listed being No. 18.

that immigrants be admitted under bond to learn to read and write and if they did not avail themselves of the opportunity they should be deported.

"The foreign born population must talk the language of the native citizens," continued Mr. Roosevelt. It must possess American citizenship and American ideas.

"There is no room in this country for hyphenated Americans. When I refer to hyphenated Americans I do not refer to naturalized Americans. Americanism is a matter of the spirit and the soul. Our allegiance must be purely to the United States."

Colonel Roosevelt also referred to preparedness, saying that the only permanently safe attitude for this country as regards national preparedness for self defense is along the lines of universal service on the Swiss model.

ANGLO-FRENCH LOAN IS CONFIRMED BY COMMONS

Not Expected Yet to Affect the Rate of Exchange—Vote Unanimous.

London, October 12. — A loan bill to confirm the government's action in raising a loan of $500,000,000 in the United States in conjunction with France passed through all stages of the House of Commons this evening. It is expected to receive the royal assent as soon as the House of Lords has formally passed it.

Previous to the passage of the bill, Reginald C. McKenna, the chancellor of the exchequer, explained the reasons for the loan and its terms, and replied to criticisms by a few members of the House as to the rate of interest charged for the loan and the profit to be made by the underwriters. The bill was passed unanimously. It is not believed that the bill's passage will have an immediate effect on the rate of exchange.

RESTORATION OF CHINESE MONARCHY BEING URGED

According to Petitions From Provinces Made Public by President.

Peking, Oct. 12.—In a mandate dated October 10 and issued last night, President Yuan Shi Kai acknowledges the receipt from all the provinces of the Chinese republic of petitions urging a restoration of the monarchy. He states emphatically that the will of the people must solve the question of a change of government and that any change must be in accordance with the constitutional compact.

SENSATION EXPECTED FROM MELLEN'S TALE

Trial of 12 New Haven Directors Starts Today

Former Railroad President Expected to Be on Stand Several Days —Trial Expected to Last Several Months.

New York, Oct. 12.—Twelve directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, will go on trial tomorrow before Federal Judge Hunt, charged under the so-called criminal clause of the Sherman law with conspiring to monopolize the transportation traffic of New England. The prospects are that the case will not go to the jury for a verdict much before February 1.

Probably in no government prosecution heretofore brought under the Sherman law have the government investigators had to deal with so many intricate financial transactions as have been disclosed in the operation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford during the 25 years in which it is alleged to have brought under its control virtually every railroad, steamship line and trolley company in New England.

R. T. Batts, special assistant to the Attorney General, who will open the case for the government, expects to spend two days in the presentation of the case to the jury. Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven probably will be one of the first called of the more than 100 witnesses subpoenaed.

The government, it is understood, has unearthed much sensational evidence which it expects to prove largely through Mr. Mellen and he probably will occupy the witness stand many days.

Great care will be taken in the selection of the jury to pick talesmen who have no connection with New Haven interests, or with those of the defendants personally, J. P. Morgan & Co., banks and other institutions mentioned in the case.

The 12 defendants are: William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass Ledyard, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, A. Heaton Robertson, Edward D. Robbins James S. Hemington, Charles F. Brocker, Charles M. Pratt, Henry K McHarg, Frederick F. Brewster and George McCulloch Miller.

DR. MANGUM HONOR GUEST OF WAKE U. N. C. ALUMNI

Athletics is Not Nearly so Dominant at University as Formerly.

(Special Star Telegraph.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12. — Dr. Charles Mangum, of the faculty of the University of North Carolina, was a special honor guest tonight for the annual banquet of the Wake county association of the alumni of the University, held in the dining room of the Yarborough Hotel.

Dr. Mangum spoke of his twenty years' service on the faculty of the University, reviewed its growth and outlined some of its greatest aims. In treating the athletic side of the University life, he said this phase of the college life is nothing like as dominant now as formerly, since numbers of other means of keeping contact with the outside intrests have sprung up, including debates and numerous phases of extension work.

The Wake association elected Richard S. Busbee as president by acclamation and re-elected J. B. Cheshire, Jr., as secretary.

At the suggestion of W. B. Snow, retiring president, provision was made for special committee to be appointed later to consider the matter of the greatest possible utilization of the activities of the University in extension and other work. There were short speeches by J. S. Mann, F. M. Harper, R. E. Parker and Col. J. Bryan Grimes.

COMPLAINT AGAINST CENSORSHIP

Shielding Officials Who Fail to Do Duty, is Charged.

(Correspondence of Associated Press)

London, Oct 1.—The inconsistency and partiality of the British censorship is again the subject of bitter complaint. Sir Frederick Milner in a letter to the Times, writes;

"I have always supposed that the business of the press censor was to prevent the circulation of any news likely to be of service to the enemy. It appears, however, that he also deems it his duty to shield officials at home who do not correctly carry out their duties.

"Last week I wrote a letter, which was to have appeared in the principal London papers, pointing out some cruel cases o Injustice to soldiers, incapactitated and discharged, giving the actual facts.

"Unfortunately, as I wished the letter to be widely circulated in the local press. I sent a copy of the letter to the Press Association. The manager deemed it his duty to submit the letter to the censor, and at the same time informed him that the letter would appear in Monday's issue of the London papers.

"A hurried message was issued to these papers forbidding them to publish the letter ,or any letter dealing with the legitimate grievances of our wounded heroes. I contend, and everybody I have spoken to agrees, that this is a monstrous abuse of the powers of the censor.

"Fortunately, I was able to defeat him to a certain extent, as I got the letter publishing in a leading Scottish newspaper, and also in a leading paper in the North of England, so that the facts will be well known in the North.

"I hope to get this abuse of the censor's powers taken up in parliament. In any case, I can assure him that though he may succeed in muzzling the press he won't succeed in muzzling me, and so long as this rank injustice continues so long will I go on exposing it, and I am convinced I shall have the whole British public at my back."

Washington, Oct. 12.—Some time before President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt are married a formal announcement of the date and pace will be made. This was stated semi-officially today in order to set at rest unfounded reports that they might be married within a few days.

New Orleans, Oct. 12.—Albert Thibedaux, grandson of former Governor Thibedaux, of Louisiana, charged with having shot and fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff Edward Gauthreaux, at Schriever, La., Saturday night last, died in a local hospital here today.

MANUFACTURED COTTON TO GO ON CONTRABAND LIST.

Great Britain Contemplates Extending Order, Says Grey.

London, Oct. 12.—Replying to a question in the house of commons today as to whether the government was allowing cotton to go into Germany under certain circumstances, Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, said raw cotton, cotton waste and cotton yarn have been declared contraband and that every possible step has been taken to prevent them reaching Germany.

It was intended, the foreign secretary added, forthwith to declare as contraband cotton piece goods and other cotton products and prohibit the export to neutral countries contiguous to Germany and Austria of such goods, capable of being used in the manufacture of explosives.
